STEPS ARE TAKEN TO COMBAT STRIKE OF ANTHRACITE MINERS

Federal Coal Commission of U.S. Frames Report to President Coolidge; Developments in Critical Situation Followed by Canadian Fuel Authorities

Washington, Aug. 22.—Members of the Federal Coal Commission were engaged to-day in framing a report to President Coolidge fixing the responsibility for the break between the anthracite operators and miners and outlining what steps they believe the Government should take in event of the prospective strike on September 1.

Stocks In Storage
Sufficient stocks of hard coal are in storage to supply normal requirements for more than four months, according to a survey made by a Government Department since the controversy between the anthracite miners and operators reached the stage where a discontinuance of operations seemed probable.

Canada Interested
Ottawa, Aug. 22 (Canadian Press).—Developments in the critical situation which has developed in the anthracite mining field of the United States are being closely followed by Federal fuel authorities, but there is a hesitancy to make any public statement at the present juncture. The general feeling, however, is that there is little likelihood of a repetition of the abnormal fuel situation of last year. Returns from the Bureau of Statistics show that anthracite has this year been moving into Canada at a greater rate than last year. There also has been an increase in imports from the United Kingdom.

Bathrobe Makers Out
New York, Aug. 22.—Seizing the opportunity created by the collapse of anthracite production at Atlantic City, a board of strategy representing two thousand bathrobe makers ordered a walkout to-day. Coincidentally with the walkout it was reported that several thousand members of the Felt Slipper Makers' Union and the Fleece Lined Underwear Union had framed demands for higher wages with a joint strike October 1 as the penalty for refusal. Ninety bathrobe factories will be affected by the walkout, union leaders declare.

ALBERTA MINES TO SUPPLY EAST Market for Coal is Being Sought in Ontario

Toronto, Aug. 22.—Declaring that they foresee a time when the supply of American coal to Ontario will be cut off, and that the people of Ontario ought to be able to get coal in winter at a reasonable price, Sir George Filmer and H. O. Sewing, business men of Edmonton, are in Toronto for the purpose of making arrangements for Alberta household coal to be sold at $11-a-ton here. Respectively treasurer and director of a company of Edmonton business men that has been formed with the idea of supplying coal to Ontario, Sir George and Mr. Sewing, who last week held a conference with Hon. G. H. Ferguson, the Premier, gaining his approval of their scheme, are of the opinion that the resources of the Dominion should be developed for the benefit of the Dominion and with British capital. "The coal has," said Sir George, "is sub-bituminous or high class lignite coal. Analysis shows it to be good coal and very fine for household use. Figures show that Ontario spends about $100,000,000 a year on American coal. "I do not see why the Dominion should not have the benefit of some of that money."

ANOTHER DEATH IN NICE BUS ACCIDENT

Nice, Aug. 22.—(Associated Press).—The toll in the bus accident on the Nice-Evian road yesterday reached seven last night with the death of Jourbart, the mechanic. The sightseeing bus in which a party of Americans was traveling plumed through a parapet on the road between Nice and Evian and fell into the Var River. Those killed beside Jourbart were the Rev. Hiram Grant Person and Mrs. Person, of Newton, Mass.; Mrs. Alexander Soudheimer, of Muskogee, Okla.; Mrs. D. C. Charles H. Gray, of Gardiner, Maine; and Louis Vallerino, a French chauffeur.

LASSEN PEAK IS AGAIN ACTIVE

Redding, Cal., Aug. 22.—Lassen Peak, near here, was in eruption last night, but the magnitude of the disturbance has not yet been determined. About seven o'clock last night coming from the crater and it continued until dark.

WINS EDISON TEST AND LONDON OFFICE OVER 400 OTHERS

Capt. George Hornsey Chosen by Dominion as Immigration Representative

Victoria Man Proved His Knowledge Almost Encyclopedic on Canada's Affairs

In competition with 400 of the best informed young men of the country, put to oral and written tests on their knowledge of Canada's resources and activities, Capt. George Hornsey, of Victoria, has been found to be the winner, it was announced to-day.

By his victory in this competition with men who stood from all other districts, he wins the appointment as Canadian representative in foreign agencies of the Department of Immigration and Colonization in Great Britain.

The appointment was confirmed to-day and Capt. Hornsey will receive a living allowance. He will be on duty to take charge there, in connection with the campaign of the Dominion Government to launch a big move of immigration into Canada. The written examinations, which were put to the 400 candidates covered every phase of the natural resources, farming, livestock, transportation and general all-round knowledge of the Dominion.

After he came out head in the written examinations, Capt. Hornsey was taken to Vancouver, where in an examiner sent out from Ottawa put him through a rapid-fire Edison questionnaire, during which several hundred questions were shot at him. He answered all but three. One of these three things he did not know was the average weight of a Canadian fleece.

Besides the salary which goes with the new office, Capt. Hornsey will receive a living allowance. His headquarters will be in London. Capt. Hornsey was assistant civil service commissioner for British Columbia under the service commissioner MacInnes after the war. In this office he set questionnaires and civil service examinations, hundreds of candidates for the service passing under him. There he gathered a store of information which helped him out when he went up for test himself.

He was taken into the Dominion service as auditor for Military District 11, with headquarters at Work Point Barracks, Port Arthur, the last of his military duties. He has been active in Saanich municipal politics. With his wife and family he will leave for England about the end of the month.

FINDS ENGLISHMEN SIDE WITH FRANCE

Angus Campbell Says Canada Worrying More About Ruhr Than Europe

Canadians are paying far more attention to the problem of the Ruhr occupation and all that it implies than the people nearer the seat of trouble. This is the impression gained by Angus Campbell, of the well-known firm of ladies' outfitters, who has returned from a three months' business trip to Great Britain and France.

In amplification of this view Mr. Campbell to a Times representative this morning stated that the topic is far more widely discussed on this continent than in either England or France. In Britain the average man in the street, when he discusses the question at all, sides with France in her attitude, for the British view of Germany is largely influenced by the evidence of Germany's prosperity in the shape of large imports into England from the late enemy country.

France Prosperous
His observations on the Continent also gave Mr. Campbell the impression that France's attitude on the Ruhr question is to a certain extent affected by the attitude of the average Englishman, as expressed through the editorial columns of various newspapers. The French people feel that the British have every sympathy with them in demanding the fullest reparation from the enemy.

JAPAN PLANS TO SCRAP WARSHIPS

Tokyo, Aug. 22.—Official announcement was made to-day that the scrapping of warships in accordance with the Washington treaties, ratifications of which have just been exchanged by the signatory powers, would be carried out immediately.

PRESIDENT OF REICHSBANK HAS NOT RESIGNED

Berlin, Aug. 22.—The report that Rudolf Havenstein, president of the Reichsbank, has resigned is entirely without foundation. It was semi-officially stated this morning. News agency and special dispatches from Berlin Tuesday night carried reports of President Havenstein's resignation.

SUN MAY BE LOSING HEAT BUT WEATHER NOT AFFECTED SAYS METEOROLOGICAL HEAD

Toronto, Aug. 22.—The fact that there has been no appreciable change in the weather of the earth during the last 200,000,000 years leads Sir Frederick Stupart, director of the meteorological service of Canada, to believe that even though the sun may be at present losing heat, as is declared by Dr. C. G. Abbott of the Smithsonian Institute, Washington, there is no need for the people of Canada to worry that the weather in future is going to get colder and colder each year.

SECOND PLANE IN CONTINENTAL TESTS GETS AWAY

San Francisco, Aug. 22.—The second aeroplane in the air mail service night and day test flight between San Francisco and New York, left Crissy Field here at 5:26 a.m. to-day with Pilot C. K. Vance in the cockpit. Vance has been detailed to return from Reno to-day with the air mail which was started in the first of the test flights from that city.

Anniversary of Death of Michael Collins Observed

Dublin, Aug. 22.—The anniversary of the death of Michael Collins was observed to-day with military displays in Dublin, Cork, Waterford and other cities. The parade in Dublin was the greatest military spectacle ever seen here. All branches of the service were represented in a line extending nearly ten miles.

When the head of the procession passed the cenotaph, Miss Kitty Kiernan, to whom the late leader was betrothed, placed a wreath on the tomb.

Increased Fares Apply to Street Car Lines in Detroit

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 22.—Increased wages amounting to $600,000 a year granted platform men in the employ of the Detroit department of street railways, increased power costs and contemplated wage increases for other employees will wipe out the net profit of $1,000,000 made by the municipally owned street car lines for the fiscal year ending July 1, 1923. Ross Schram, assistant general manager of the line said to-day in announcing increased rates for street car fares. The fares will be increased September 2 from five to six cents with one cent for transfers. Nine tickets will be sold for fifty cents under the new plan.

ASK CITIES TO GET TOGETHER AND FIGHT FOR FAIR TREATMENT

Prince Rupert, Aug. 22.—Stronger and better organized methods to secure justice for the cities of this Province were advocated by President Charles F. McHardy, of Nelson, in his presidential address to the Union of British Columbia Municipalities at its opening session here to-day. "It is absolutely necessary," he said, "not only to carry on the Union as heretofore but to make it a greater and a stronger force than ever for the welfare of the people of British Columbia." "The Union," he declared, "must go forward or backward. If it wanted to go forward it might possibly become an incorporated concern."

"To-day we are in the balance," he went on. "It is for you to say whether we are going to be a strong, virile power looking after the interests of the people who have elected us to office or whether we are going to let things take their own way, a way possibly engineered by influences who are seeking personal gain."

Must Look to Future
"What about the future of the union?" he asked. "You can go back if you so wish to the same basis on which the Union operated in the years gone by. In those days the convention simply meant the reading of a few papers dealing with municipal matters such as the best mode of road construction, sewer work, civic financing, etc. If such is your pleasure, then now is the time to say so. One thing sure is that you cannot stand still, you must either go backward or forward and I sincerely hope for the sake of the people of British Columbia that we may decide on the forward step. If you so wish we can possibly become an incorporated concern, or we can carry on with the same organization as we have at the present time if the funds are forthcoming."

RATIFICATION OF LAUSANNE PACT REGARDED CERTAIN

Constantinople, Aug. 22.—Debate on the ratification of the Lausanne peace Treaty is proceeding in the Turkish Grand National Assembly at Ankara and while the end of the discussion is not in sight, ratification of the pact is regarded as certain.

Traceable To Ice

"There is no doubt that cold weather has prevailed in the west of Canada this year and also in certain parts of the United States is traceable to the presence of large quantities of ice in the northeast of Canada early this year."

Influence On Climate
There is no doubt that cold winters and late springs in the North and northeast of Canada has a great influence on the climate throughout Canada and also in certain parts of the United States.

Glacial Period
"It is possible that we are approaching another glacial period, but I do not think it can possibly reach us for the next twenty or forty thousand years. As a matter of fact, scientific men do not know if the sun is getting colder or hotter."

EXPORT OF SILVER ORE FROM CANADA

Year's Total Export Amounted to 5,967,000 Ounces

Ottawa, Aug. 22.—(Canadian Press).—During July the United States imported 922,125 ounces of silver ore from Canada valued at $600,124, according to records compiled by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. In the twelve months ending with July, silver ore exports totalled 5,967,000 ounces valued at $2,914,000, compared with 4,276,000 ounces, valued at $2,131,700, in the corresponding period of 1921-22.

Total exportation of silver bullion from Canada during the twelve months ending with July 1923, was 11,317,000 ounces, valued at $7,586,000 compared with 10,263,000 ounces valued at $6,864,000 in the twelve months ending with July 1922.

FROST IN EAST

Toronto, Aug. 22.—Cool weather, accompanied by some storms in parts of the Dominion, has had the effect of the Dominion. White River, Ont., apparently did its best to maintain its reputation by registering frost, but only managed to sink the mercury to 34 degrees above as the lowest during the night.

Prospects are for continued coolness all over the Dominion for a day or two at any rate without likelihood of frost, however, at least not south of the Arctic Circle.

BURGLARS BEWARE! LEWIS ON PARAPATH

Chicago, Aug. 22.—Professor W. Lee Lewis, of Northwestern University, inventor of Lewisite and other high explosives, and deadly gases used in the world war, announced to-day that after three visits to being robbed, he was fired of being robbed, so he had equipped his home with a burglar alarm attached to a tear gas bomb. "As soon as a window is raised or a door opened, the bomb drops to the floor," he explained, "and I have added a booster charge to make it explode so that it will reach every corner. Our sleeping porch is closed from the house so the family is in no danger. All I have to do when this bomb goes off is to call the police and tell them to bring an ambulance."

KING REGRETS LOSS IN RECENT CHINA TYPHOON

Hongkong, Aug. 22.—His Majesty King George telegraphed to Sir Reginald Edward Stubbs, Governor of Hongkong, that he is much distressed to hear of the loss of life and damage to property caused by the recent typhoon. The Governor replied, thanking His Majesty for "his gracious message."

FRENCH POLICY DEMANDS FULL REPARATION PAYMENT BEFORE TROOPS WITHDRAWN FROM RUHR

How Poincare's Note to Curzon Was Received

London, Aug. 22.—In the absence of Premier Baldwin, Lord Curzon and other Cabinet Ministers, no expression of official opinion regarding Premier Poincare's latest addition to the reparations issue was forthcoming to-day. In official quarters in London the first impression of the Note, based upon the French official summary, was one of disappointment. Many of those versed in the intricate problem felt that the Note constituted no substantial advance on the French Premier's previous communications, although they were impressed by his friendly spirit.

Open For Discussion

Other observers, while regretting the argumentative, unyielding tone of the document, felt that there were some elements of satisfaction in it, and that it at least kept the field clear for discussion.

Regret was expressed over France's refusal to have an international Commission assess Germany's capacity to pay and at the French insistence that the present Reparations Commission shall continue periodically to determine the German financial ability. The British view is that the existing Reparations body is essentially a Franco-Belgian organization.

Disappointment also is manifested regarding the unwillingness of the Ruhr occupation; similarly it is inevitable that disappointment should be caused by France's statement that an understanding could be reached if the reconstruction of the devastated areas were given priority over other reparations and the discharge of the Allied debts. The feeling in Great Britain is that this constitutes a selfish disregard by the French of Great Britain's own pressing need of repayment and indemnification.

The foregoing reports are only hasty non-official views based on the brief telegraphic summary, and it is conceded that a careful reading of the complete text may reveal some points of agreement or compromise which are not now apparent.

Voluntarism Note

The note is of such a voluminous character that it engaged the attention of several translators in the British Foreign Office most of the night, and the Ministers will not have full translations before them until this evening.

The British Cabinet will examine the document with care to discover if it offers even a partial ground for agreement, and a careful reading of the note by the Government, it is said, to establish unity of purpose and aim with a view to continuing the friendly co-operation of Great Britain and France in the settlement of this and other European problems.

Germany Must Terminate Policy of Passive Resistance Before She Can Even Secure Attenuation of Rigors of Occupation Are Conclusions Drawn From Poincare's Reply to Curzon Note

Paris, Aug. 22.—Germany can obtain evacuation of the Ruhr only by paying reparations; she can secure attenuation of the rigors of the occupation by ceasing passive resistance, and she can win no reduction in the amounts she owes France unless the Allied creditors of France see fit to give France credit for equal amounts on her war debts. These are the conclusions of Premier Poincare's reply to Marquis Curzon's reparations note of recent date. The French Government also expresses its belief that the Allies can agree on methods of bringing about the execution of the Treaty by continuing courteous negotiations.

The British proposal for a re-estimate of Germany's capacity for payment, and Lord Curzon's suggestion that the question of the legality of the occupation of the Ruhr be referred to The Hague, are rejected and the French position is reaffirmed as remaining unchanged.

As for the inter-Allied war debts, France holds that a settlement of this question should wait upon final payment by Germany of fifty billion gold marks in reparations comprised in the A and B bonds.

Refusal to Withdraw

Paris, Aug. 22.—The French Government's reply to the recent British reparations note asserts that France refuses to withdraw from the Ruhr except as she is paid, and she rejects a plan for an international re-estimate of Germany's capacity to pay.

The reply made public at the Foreign Office this morning maintains that the French operation in the Ruhr is absolutely legal. It offers to consider the easiest way of exacting payment from Germany when realer peace has ceased, and expresses a willingness to continue the recent discussions with Great Britain. The French position remains unchanged according to the official summary of the reply issued in English at the Foreign Office prior to publication of the complete text.

Premier Poincare, in the reply, claims the priority for reparations over other war costs as represented by the inter-Allied debts.

Never Repudiated Debts

"France never repudiated the debts she contracted during the war, either in England or to America, in the interest of the common victory," the note asserts.

France is also creditor of the other Allies of five or six billion gold marks, the summary continues, but "there can be no doubt but that in the minds of those who drafted the treaty damages to persons and property were to be granted priority over war costs."

Before Germany Begins to Pay

"Before Germany begins to pay," the note says, "it is to be supposed that 'such war costs' which the Allies agreed should rank after reparations, after pensions and after the damages stipulated in the treaty and which they do not claim from Germany, are now to be claimed by the Allies from each other before Germany has ever begun to pay up."

Britain's Demands

Referring especially to the British demand for the payment of fourteen and one-half billion gold marks, the summary continues:

"We do not suppose that England intends to claim the sums owing to her by the Allies before reparations are actually settled. She will certainly be the first to realize that, in any case, to pay what she owes France must previously have recovered her contributing power, have repaired her grievous losses, and must be in a position to meet German competition with equal weapons."

"It is, no doubt, to England's interest that Germany shall recover. It certainly cannot have been the intention of France to be diminished."

Not a Selfish Policy

The synopsis asserts that France "never dreamed of pursuing a selfish policy in the question of reparations—a question that can not be solved without due regard to the whole European interests involved."

THE RESOLUTIONS

The convention was attended by delegates from every board in the association with the exception of the Gulf Islands board. There was a wonderful spirit of co-operation evinced. All resolutions submitted were fully discussed before being voted upon and we have to report the carrying of the following resolutions:

For the protection of the timber on the highway near Cameron Lake.

A resolution for the prevention of the scenic beauties of other highways being destroyed by careless logging.

The maintenance in a passable condition of all existing provincial roads on the island.

A resolution for the production of pulpwood or logs.

In favor of the Government appealing the Railway Board's decision against the doing away with the arbitrary rate on lumber shipments.

In favor of the Government investigating the desirability of a gasoline tax which would be earmarked for road repairs.

For the removal of rocks in the harbors of Ladysmith and Chemulung.

For permitting excursion tickets to cover the trips to Alberni and Courtenay without additional cost.

Requesting the Government to grant to municipalities portions of Indian reserves that may be used for park purposes.

A resolution requesting the Government to build the connecting link on the road from Strathcona, B.C. to Campbell River so that that portion already built from Butties Lake could be utilized.

A resolution to curtail the operations of Chinese in lumber mills and camps, while much sympathized with, was, owing to ambiguity, withdrawn by the Esquimalt delegate.

It will be noted that in the above list of resolutions that there is only one that calls for the expenditure of provincial money for the carrying on of new work, namely, that on the road to Strathcona Park. It was, however, felt that, owing to the fact that considerable money had already been spent in building a road from the Butties Lake end, which road at the present time was absolutely valueless, it was exceedingly desirable that the connections should be made so that our citizens and visitors would have an opportunity to enjoy the glories of this park.

PORT ALBERNI PESTS FOLLOW WAKE OF RELAND'S SNAKES

Miraculous Energy of Youth Brings Caterpillars to Fiery Finish

Port Alberni, Aug. 22.—While the Port Alberni civic fathers mourn the epidemic of caterpillars that has been visiting the city since the arrival of the first of the month, the youth of that thriving community rejoice mightily over new bicycles, scout rifles, small-bore rifles and other possessions dear to the heart of boyhood and girlhood.

A plague of ten caterpillars was the immediate cause of the mingled joy and sorrow, a miscalculation by the hitherto hard-headed councillors, with a surprising display of foresight, throughout one day of tireless work by the youngsters, being the means whereby the bads and lasses gained at the expense of the city's young men.

With caterpillar tents adorning far too many trees in the municipality, the Council recently decided to offer the boys a reward of five cents for every ten-draped twig brought to the municipal burning. Sixty dollars was anticipated as sufficient to cover the cost of the clean-up and the city fathers adjourned for the evening with a sense of work well done.

The opportunity was too fine for the energetic youth of Port Alberni to overlook. The city was combed, Alberni was searched, Sprout Lake was visited, all in the course of the first day after the announcement of the reward. In buggies, automobiles, wheelbarrows and streaming arm loads, twigs bearing pest tents were hurled into the yard of the municipal officers for destruction.

At lunch the fever for warfare on tent caterpillars spread to the adults as the lads reported the golden harvest accruing. The municipal officers were almost overwhelmed with offerings as nightfall came to their relief, bringing with darkness an emergency meeting of the council to check the whirlwind spell of youthful energy.

The death occurred this morning of Mrs. Rose O'Connell. She was born in Birmingham, England, seventy-one years ago and had been a resident of this city for the past forty years. She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, residing at the family residence, 2522 Ross Street, also two sisters and a brother in England. The remains are reposing at the B.C. Funeral Parlors, where the service will take place on Saturday morning at eleven o'clock. Interment will be made at Ross Bay.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bartholomew, widow of David Bartholomew, passed away this morning at St. Joseph's Hospital, aged seventy-two years. A native of Kent, England, she had been a resident of this city for the past forty years. She is survived by three daughters, Miss R. Bartholomew, of North Saanich; Mrs. F. H. Meare, in England; and Mrs. E. C. Lambert, North Saanich, also four grandchildren and one brother, William Downer, of North Saanich. The funeral will leave the B.C. Funeral Chapel on Friday at 12:45, proceeding to Holy Trinity Church, Patricia Bay, where services and interment will take place at 2:30 o'clock.

PHEASANTS BREED FAST, OVERCROWD GAME FARM HERE

Pheasants have been breeding so fast on the Provincial Government's game farm at Saanich that 232 Monaghan and Chinese pheasants have been shipped during the past few days to the Lower Mainland to be liberated and the congestion here relieved, according to orders issued by M. B. Jackson, K.C., M.P., chairman of the Game Conservation Board.

About three months old, it is thought the birds will be able to care for themselves sufficiently by the time the shooting season opens on October 15.

A good outlook and plentiful stock of game birds is forecasted by officials of the Game Conservation Board for this year. Conditions last Spring, they say, were very favorable for breeding pheasants during the past few days have been liberated in the North Vancouver district, at Squamish, Powell River, Chilliwack, Mission, Harrison Mills, Clayburn and Lulu Island.

The remaining birds at Saanich will be kept until next year.

Reports received from the Cariboo and Bella Coola districts are that ducks and geese are more plentiful than for many years.

Furthermore, she always took into consideration Great Britain's lamentable and persistent unemployment.

The occupation of the Ruhr was made obligatory, in Premier Poincare's opinion, by what he calls the deliberate desertion of Germany's finances, with the avowed intention of escaping payment of reparations.

Aggravated Financial Situation

"Until the end of 1922," she replied to Great Britain's question, "Germany had not ceased to aggravate her financial situation. She did nothing to balance her budget. She maintained railways running at a loss."

She increased the number of her functionaries and increased their pay. She remitted a large part of the taxes and duties levied on the manufacturers and even granted them indemnity and subsidies. She has reconstructed her merchant fleet, which is now competing with the British in American waters. She has undertaken an immense programme of public works, such as France was obliged to postpone.

Premier Poincare cites previous decisions of the Allies to prove that the occupation of the Ruhr is legal. He mentions the rapid recovery of Alsace-Lorraine as a proof that Germany could have put her finances in order had she wished to do so.

French Programme

The French programme, the Premier says, is "simple," for she asks "from the first two series of bonds of twenty-five billions in addition to enough from the bonds to pay the Allied war debts."

In the text of the note Premier Poincare, replying in numbered paragraphs to the communication of Marquis Curzon, reaffirms the French reason for the occupation of the Ruhr. He repeats a hundred times repeated not to renounce one centime of her reparations claim, which is regarded as sacred and which does not resemble any other claim. He repeats the determination of France not to give up the pledges she holds until after complete payment of reparations has been made.

Capacity to Pay

Referring to the proposed re-estimate of Germany's capacity to pay, she replies: "We confess we are unable to understand what the British Government means by capacity of payment. Germany's present capacity of payment is equal to nothing, by will of the empire itself. All expert calculations are useless."

The note then asks: "Does the British Cabinet want to suppress Germany's debt entirely under the pretext that her capacity for payment has been provisionally annihilated?"

Premier Poincare replies very pointedly to Lord Curzon's intimation that Great Britain may soon be obliged to ask France to pay her war debts. He says: "France has never repudiated her debts and never will, but she is convinced that no British Government will ever apply to an ally the pressure that the London Cabinet does not find it possible to apply to-day to the former enemies of France."

The Premier repeats the assurance that France will attenuate the occupation of the Ruhr in proportion as payments are actually made.

"France will not change her attitude on evacuation of the note assets. To ask her to do otherwise would be to justify the attitude of Germany, and in the words of Lloyd George before the House of Commons in March, 1921, 'it would be the victors who would pay the cost of defeat and the vanquished who would harvest the fruits of victory.'"

The biggest stadium the world has ever seen was in ancient Athens—it could hold 350,000 people.

ANNUAL CITY TAX COLLECTION GETS UNDER WAY HERE

Every owner of property in Victoria will know within three days just how much he or she has to pay into the city treasury this fall.

The average ratepayer will find a substantial increase in his tax bill—the result of the City Council's determination to collect enough taxes to cover the full expenses of the year.

Tax bills have been going out of City Treasurer E. C. Smith's office in a steady stream for some days. Before the beginning of next week, all the bills will be in the mails. Mr. Smith announced to-day. Clerks in the treasury department have been working at top speed to make out these bills and send them to their destinations.

Meanwhile officials of the city assessor's department have been at assessment notices informing property owners of changes in the assessment of their land and buildings.

Account of the drastic changes made in Victoria assessments by the court of revision this year, it is impossible to gauge the average ratepayer must meet. Almost every owner will have to pay a different increase, it was explained at the City Hall to-day.

In some cases, where assessments have been reduced, the increase will be small, while in others, where the assessments have remained stationary while the tax rate has gone up, the increase will be substantial.

WANT DOCK CLEAR FOR THE SIBERIAN PRINCE REPAIRS

Otherwise Big Job May be Sent to Seattle Yards

A telegram to Frank Macdonald, chairman of the Board of Steamship Inspectors at Ottawa, was sent this morning by the president of the Chamber of Commerce, C. T. Cross, and endorsed by the directors this afternoon, asking for the postponement of repairs to the S.S. City of Victoria.

The telegram pointed out that the City of Victoria sustained damage last April in the Azores, and "since that time has successfully made a voyage to the Orient and back. The vessel is perfectly tight and her structural strength is not in any way impaired."

Lloyd's classification surveyor will grant a seaworthy certificate for her to proceed to sea on another voyage. The local inspector, however, hesitated to permit her to proceed without first obtaining authority from headquarters.

It is further pointed out if the decision is postponed, the owners of the Siberian Prince intended to take their vessel to Seattle, where permanent repairs will be carried out. In view of the importance of the Siberian Prince repairs mean to Victoria the postponement of repairs to the S.S. City of Victoria was sought, so that the yards could proceed with repairs to the Siberian Prince.

DEMANDS FOR FEDERAL ACTION BEING CONSIDERED

not be continued in office for more than two years. There is provision for much more detailed reports to the directors than have been made in the past. Hope was expressed during the sessions of the banking committee during the parliamentary term that these new provisions would tend to safeguard the soundness of the banks. There has not, however, been sufficient time yet for the effect of the new Act to be felt.

The fear in some quarters that the banking situation must be serious because the suspension of the Home Bank follows the winding down of their reserves by the Union and the Standard Banks is not thought in official circles to be justified. It is pointed out that the action taken by the Union and Standard was an evidence of the strength of their position, while the inability of the Home Bank to follow the same course was many interpreted as being explained by the fact that the latter institution had much smaller resources. It is believed in official quarters that the courage displayed by the Union and Standard Banks and the prompt action of the Canadian Bank in accepting the consequences of its position has gone much to clear the financial air.

After the morning sitting of the Cabinet to-day Premier King said that he had no announcement to make in regard to the Home Bank situation. "There is no need for Government action," he said, "the curators in conducting an investigation and the matter is in his hands."

Toronto, Aug. 22.—Three prominent Canadian bankers, Clarence A. Bogart, general manager of the Dominion Bank; A. E. Phipps, general manager of the Imperial Bank of Canada; and H. P. V. Jones, assistant general manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, have been appointed by the Canadian Bankers Association to act as an advisory committee with Curator A. B. Barker, in the investigation of the standard of the Home Bank of Canada, which suspended payment last Friday.

Cabinet Consideration

Their appointment was announced on the eve of a session of the Dominion Cabinet, which will give consideration to the demand of T. L. Church, M.P. for North Toronto, for an investigation independent of the curator, into the affairs of the Home Bank. Mr. Church was notified last night that the Dominion Cabinet would deal with his petition.

Hon. W. S. Fielding, Minister of Finance, has returned from his vacation to attend the Cabinet meeting. In giving consideration to the application for a special investigation the Cabinet will have before them the monthly bank statement filed with the Finance Department, the annual report dealt with by shareholders only two months ago, and the special and "serious" report made to the directors last Friday afternoon, which reported the announcement of the suspension of payment.

Curator's Statement

Curator Barker issued the following statement:

"Pending completion of the investigation of the Home Bank of Canada by the curator, the branches of the Home Bank are prepared to accept payment of any obligations due to the bank, and of such payment to release the securities held as collateral thereto, subject, of course, to the approval of the curator in each case."

"Holders of safety deposit boxes at such branches where these safety deposit boxes are installed will have access to their boxes in accordance with the contracts."

The Sandman Story For To-night

MR. FOX came suddenly upon Mr. Coyote one morning resting in the tall grass as if waiting for some one. "You look tired, Mr. Coyote," said Mr. Fox, just to start the conversation. "Did you have a hard night?"

"No," replied Mr. Coyote, "but I had a run this morning which tired me a little. But not so much as Mr. Dog, and I wasn't nearly so much frightened." And Mr. Coyote laughed as he thought of what had happened.

This was too much for the curiosity of Mr. Fox. He sat right down beside Mr. Coyote and asked, "What happened?" Did you play a trick on Mr. Dog?"

"I'll tell you," replied Mr. Coyote, sitting up. "I guess there will be time before my friend returns. We are going hunting—after Jack rabbits. We usually work better in pairs for that sort of thing, you know."

Mr. Fox did not answer, for he did not care a bit about how Mr. Coyote hunted rabbits. He did very well at that sort of thing himself. What he wanted was to know how Mr. Dog was tricked or what did happen to him.

"Well, as I was going to say," went on Mr. Coyote, "this morning very early I was wandering about at the foot of that hill yonder when all of a sudden out of the bushes bounded Mr. Dog."

"Now I knew that at the top of that hill were some friends of mine, so I started running up the hill and after me came Mr. Dog, as bold as could be."

"I can outrun any dog I ever saw, so I got a good bit ahead and then sat down to wait, for you see Mr. Dog was going at such a fearful rate of speed, for him, that he would go right past where I sat—could not stop, you see."

"Then up I would jump and start up the hill in another direction, leading him on all the time nearer to the top and nearly laughing myself lame every time Mr. Dog ran past me as I sat waiting, for he would almost turn heels over head when he tried to stop suddenly."

"He was getting pretty mad by the time we came to the top and so intent upon getting at me that he did not notice my friends, three of them, hiding behind some brush and peering out to see what was going on."

"Well, Mr. Fox, you certainly would have laughed if you could have seen Mr. Dog when my friends jumped out and joined me. He turned and ran down that hill and we after him."

"He dropped his tail between his legs and ran as he never ran before. I am sure, howling all the time. He was scared, you could see that! And if he had not found his master at the foot of the hill, carrying a gun, I guess that dog would have died of fright."

"What did you do when you saw Mr. Man with a gun?" inquired Mr. Fox.

"What would you have done?" inquired Mr. Coyote. "You would have run the other way, wouldn't you? Well, that was just what we did, ran around the other side of the hill and got out of sight."

"But I'll never forget Mr. Dog running lickety-split down that hill crying for help, to the end of my days. That is the reason I am resting here. I laughed so hard when it was all over. Well, I must be off, here come my friends."

Mr. Fox looked after Mr. Coyote as he ran to join his friends. "I don't know whether I believe that or not," he mused. "I know they always hunt in packs or in pairs and I don't believe they are a very courageous set, but I would have given a good deal to see Mr. Dog, if Mr. Coyote told the truth."

DEATH TAKES SIR

WILLIAM MEREDITH

Distinguished Jurist of Ontario Died Last Night at Montreal

Montreal, Aug. 22.—Hon. Sir William Ralph Meredith, Chief Justice of Ontario, died in the Royal Victoria Hospital here last night of intestinal trouble, aged eighty-three years.

Sir William was brought to Montreal hurriedly a week ago from Scarborough Beach, Maine, where he had gone, as usual, to pass a month with his family. At that time he was apparently in the best of health, looking well, and taking an active part in all the attractions of the seashore.

Owing to intestinal trouble, however, it was deemed advisable to seek medical aid and surgical treatment, and he was brought to the Royal Victoria Hospital. It soon became evident that the condition of the patient was one for some apprehension, and a slight operation was found necessary.

It was stated here last night that the funeral will be held from the family residence, Toronto, and the remains were sent there this morning.

Hon. Sir William Ralph Meredith, one of the best known of several brothers, including another Chief Justice of Ontario, Hon. R. M. Meredith, of London, and the president of the Bank of Montreal, Sir Vincent Meredith, was a public spirited, patriotic citizen of unusual vigor of body and mind. Even when he had reached the period of life which usually comes under the head of "old age," he continued his judicial duties with apparently unimpaired memory, and followed the numerous activities in which he had been engaged for many years. He simply declined to grow old. His shock of grey hair and his grey beard might proclaim him a patriarch, but there was nothing of the patriarch in his manner or the workings of his quick intellect.

Political Life

Sir William Meredith first became known to the general public as a member of the Ontario Legislature, to which he was elected in 1872 as the Conservative member for London, Ont. In 1878 he was elected leader of the Conservative opposition in the Legislature, succeeding the late Sir Matthew Crooks Cameron in that position. He continued as leader of the Opposition until 1894, when he followed the example of his illustrious predecessor, Sir M. C. Cameron, and stepped from active political life into a judgeship. His long term of service in the Ontario Legislature was earnestly devoted to the public interest, as he saw it, and he advocated a number of measures which ultimately were enacted into law. He was one of the first advocates of manhood suffrage, and of the Mechanics' Lien Act and the Workmen's Compensation for Injuries Act, all of which he had the gratification of seeing placed on the statute books of Ontario.

Law Practice

Sir William's law practice began in 1861, in which year he was called to the Ontario bar. He was created a King's Counsel for Ontario in 1875, and in 1880 he was created a K.C. for the Dominion by the Marquis of Lorne, Governor-General of Canada. He practiced law in London for some years, then came to Toronto, where for a time he was a partner of the late Thomas Scatcherd, Q.C., M.P. Sir William then Mr. Meredith was appointed city solicitor of Toronto after he had resided there a comparatively short time, and later he was promoted to the position of corporation counsel for the city. He was a Bench of the Upper Canada Law Society.

Sir William Meredith was a member of the Royal Commission which investigated the affairs of the University of Toronto in 1905, and in 1910 he was a commissioner to report on laws relating to liability to employers for injuries. He was elected president of the South African Memorial Association in 1904. He was chairman of the joint civic improvement committee of Toronto in 1910. He was a former vice-president of the National Farmers' Association. In 1895 he was elected a senator of the University of Toronto, and from 1900 he was chancellor of the University. He received knighthood from Queen Victoria in 1894.

When a young man residing in London Sir William served as an officer of the London Light Infantry. Born in Westminster Township, County of Middlesex, Ontario, on March 31, 1840, Sir William Meredith was a son of the late John Cooke Meredith, R.A., and Sarah (Fegler) Meredith. He was educated at the London District Grammar School and the University of Toronto. He received the degree of LL.B. of the University of Toronto in 1872, and in 1889 the honorary degree of LL.D. was conferred upon him by his alma mater.

Sir William married Mary Holmes, daughter of Marcus Holmes, of London, Ont., in June, 1862. One son and three daughters were born of this union. The son, Major R. W. Meredith, died in Europe during the war. The daughters are Mrs. W. A. Ramsay, Mrs. G. A. Peters and Mrs. J. D. Thiburn. Besides the two brothers mentioned, Sir William had four brothers, all distinguished in their several spheres: T. G. Meredith, K.C., prominent barrister of London, Ont.; Charles M. and Llewellyn Meredith, Montreal, and Edmund Meredith, K.C., London, England. He was a member of the Toronto Club, and of the Anglican Church.

DRUGGISTS TAKE OVER BUSINESS

Syndicate to Handle Wholesale Business of J. A. Tepoorten & Co.

Fred Williams Elected Island Director

Vancouver, Aug. 22.—Important negotiations have just been completed under which a syndicate of practically all the retail druggists in the Province have taken over the wholesale business of J. A. Tepoorten & Company, Vancouver.

There are approximately 200 druggists in British Columbia, operating retail stores, and of this total 134 have already taken stock in the new syndicate, varying in amounts ranging from $500 to $2,000. More are reported to be coming in. Twenty per cent has already been paid up, and the intention is to meet the other eighty per cent from the profits derived from the business as it develops.

On the board of directors are three men from Vancouver, one from Vancouver Island, one from the Lower Mainland, and two from the Interior, and one from northern British Columbia. Fred Williams, of Victoria, was the director elected from the Island.

Dusseldorf, Aug. 22.—General Degoutte, the French commander, has issued a new order sequestering all stocks of coal and coke and by-products for the benefit of the occupation powers. Heavy penalties are to be inflicted for violation of the order.

Three more coal mines in the Gelsenkirchen district have been seized by the French, it was announced at occupational headquarters here today, and two from the Interior, and one from northern British Columbia.

Herr Rudent, editor of the Communist organ, Freiheit, who fled after making an inflammatory speech against the French on May 1, has been arrested.

VANCOUVER MILL IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Vancouver, Aug. 22.—Fire last night destroyed the mill of the British Columbia Lumber Company on False Creek, causing a loss estimated at $350,000.

The flames were driven by a heavy wind, and had gained great headway when the fire department arrived. It is believed that the fire originated in one of the sawdust burners.

The drying shed and the kiln were the only buildings saved. Considerable damage was done to the mill building, and the Lumber Company adjoining on the east side, but this mill was saved from entire destruction by a fire wall erected two years ago, which almost entirely defied the flames, fanned by a strong southeast wind.

Fire fighters from every hall in the city responded, a second alarm being turned in, and within an hour their efforts resulted in the blaze being under absolute control. This is the second time the company has suffered from fire. About four years ago the plant was wiped out at a loss of $250,000.

HARVESTERS FROM BRITAIN FOUND NO WORK ON ARRIVAL

Men Said to Have Been Refused Employment by Farmers

Winnipeg, Aug. 22.—Because they have had no experience in farm work, British harvesters have been refused employment by Western Canadian farmers and many of the men who left here last week are now en route to Winnipeg, making their way back as best they can, and badly in need of assistance, according to The Winnipeg Tribune.

The men, according to the story, said advertisements had been posted in the Old Country asking for 5,000 harvest hands and that it was clearly stated that "no experience" was required. Now they charge they were brought to Canada under false pretences.

Induced To Come

"We have been induced under false pretences to come to Canada, and many of us gave up good jobs in the Old Country to come to Canada," declared David Hendry, of Jamestown, Dumbarton, Scotland, who acted as spokesman for the party of Britishers who returned from Cardiff, Sask.

"The contract we signed to get the benefit of special fare stipulates that we must do thirty days' work on farms in order to be entitled to the special rate back to England. We are here, willing to work but we cannot fulfill the contract because the farmers will not give us work."

Hendry declared the farmers at Cardiff refused to hire them. The town clerk, after failing to get them positions, telephoned to the employment bureau at Regina, and according to Hendry's story, an official there said: "The C.P.R. brought them out here and let the C.P.R. feed them."

While no official statement was available from railway officials here, some said the complaint of Hendry was not entirely correct, and as far as they knew, no advertisements in the Old Country called for men without experience.

Aided by Veterans

Winnipeg, Aug. 22.—A great many of the British harvesters are stranded here with not even enough money to take them to the farms where they are to work," stated Captain W. Vaughan, Dominion secretary of the Imperial Veterans in Canada, here. Several men have already been given aid by the Imperial Veterans and more are applying every day, he said. Captain Vaughan ascribes this to the fact that the workers were told they would need only £1 or £2 after paying their passage money, and he foresees a serious position for the men who were brought from the British Isles to help in the Western Provinces.

Stranded

Portage la Prairie, Man., Aug. 22.—Thirty-five British harvesters are stranded here, according to Mayor Burns, having no money and nothing to eat. The men are principally tradesmen who have had absolutely no farm experience, and they positively cannot be absorbed here, the Mayor states.

The harvesters are asking from $3.50 to $4.00 a day, stating that they were told before leaving Scotland that 50,000 men were needed and that farm experience was unnecessary. The local office of the Employment Bureau states that the wants of local farmers could not be provided for, except for an odd man or two.

Government To Help

Ottawa, Aug. 22.—Everything possible will be done by the Canadian Government to obtain work for British immigrants who came to this country as harvesters' hands, it was stated by officials of the Federal Department of Immigration last night, when their attention was drawn to dispatches from Winnipeg and Portage la Prairie to the effect that many of the British were out of work and destitute.

Departmental officials admitted that they had been informed that there was a scarcity of employment at several Western points where the harvest was late, but they did not believe that there was a surplus of labor in the West, or that the situation would become serious. Stories that the immigrants had been refused work because of lack of experience were discounted here, and it was pointed out that it did not require a great deal of experience

PROMPT ACTION NECESSARY

Reports from various parts of the country indicate that a large number of the men who came from the British Isles for work in the harvest fields have been refused employment because they have had no previous experience. They declare that the advertised appeal to which they responded stipulated that experience of farm life was unnecessary. Railway officials at one or two points do not agree with this complaint and state that they were not aware that inexperienced men were called for. Meanwhile various dispatches emphasize the fact that many hundreds of these men are not being given an opportunity to do the work for which they came and are at the present time in actual need of food and money as a consequence.

We shall be prepared to learn that some of the grievances to which publicity already has been given are somewhat overdrawn and the result of a little impatience. Climatic conditions in a number of districts have delayed harvest work for a few days and in these instances the hard-headed farmer—following the custom of years—has hesitated to increase his operating cost by engaging temporarily unproductive labor. But this is by no means the only consideration that enters into the situation which has now presented itself. And no useful purpose will be served by a public argument as to whether the appeal for workers as published in the Old Country stipulated the necessity for experience or not. The men have been brought to Canada in large numbers at reduced fares on the understanding that their services were required and required urgently. In many instances work does not appear to be forthcoming.

It is particularly unfortunate that such a state of affairs should have developed at this time. Canada is finding it difficult enough to get new people without exposing herself to such unfavorable impressions as incidents of this kind—often quite without adequate justification—are bound to convey to the mind that has little patience with anything save that which serves the immediate end. For this reason we shall hope that the authorities at Ottawa will deal with the situation before it assumes serious proportions. The men will be reasonable enough; they have not come all this way from home without counting something of the cost. This country's plain course, therefore, is to hold them and see that all those who are not asking for the moon are given a chance to work and get the experience that more ambitious effort requires.

NOTHING NEW

There is very little that is new in Premier Poincaré's reply to the British note on the subject of reparations. The identical division of opinion which actuated Lord Curzon and influenced the phraseology of his now famous document has not been removed or in any way simplified by the reiterated view of France. The Quai d'Orsay will not sanction the evacuation of the Ruhr unless Germany pays her bill. It will modify the occupational process and attenuate its rigors only if the debtor nation will consent to allow collection in kind to proceed without obstruction. Nor is France prepared to reduce her claim unless Allied creditors are willing to forego like amounts in respect of her indebtedness. At the same time Premier Poincaré believes that the Allies can agree upon methods of bringing about the execution of the Treaty of Versailles by the continuance of courteous negotiations.

Most people will agree that France takes a reasonable view when she contends that the framers of the Treaty intended that war costs should not constitute a prior claim to damages to persons and property. Should such a contention be upheld it would simply mean that the Allied countries, impoverished in wealth and resources as a result of Germany's aggression in 1914, would be called upon to settle their accounts with one another before Germany even began to pay up. Obviously this would destroy the sanctity of the common bond which common sacrifice forged.

Until some expression of official view comes from the British Government it is difficult to speculate upon the possibility of this new note—conceding nothing to British opinion and satisfying itself only with the suggestion that "courteous negotiations" can bring about methods of obtaining execution of the Treaty—furnishing fresh ground for Allied, or at least British and French, consultation. It merely becomes clearer that Downing Street will either have to carry out its proposal for direct treatment with Germany or support France more liberally than has been the case so far.

THE OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

As a controversy in British Columbia the trans-provincial highway, or at least what has long since come to be known as the "missing link," has been a popular one and will continue to hold the interest of the people until it has been completed. It is popular in general because it is as important to Vancouver Island as it is to those sections of the Province which are lending their support and persuasion in advocacy of two well-known routes upon which engineers are still conducting their investigations.

There is what is known as the Northern route that would traverse the Fraser Canyon and the old Cariboo Road and the Southern route that would connect Hope and Princeton. As far as this section of the Province is concerned the principal interest in the whole proposal rests with the urgent desirability of a continuous road that may be used with comfort and safety during the height of the tourist season. For it goes without saying that such increase of traffic as will naturally follow the completion of the highway will contribute proportionately to the business of Vancouver Island—the obvious starting or finishing point of any British Columbia tour by car.

Meanwhile it is gratifying to observe that Dr. Sutherland has announced that if the Legislature approves the requisite appropriation at its next session work on the "missing link" will be commenced in the Spring and pressed to completion as soon as possible. And we take it that the Government will recommend the route which appeals to engineering knowledge and experience as the most practical from every standpoint. With such a decision there can be no quarrel.

PRESERVING THE HUMAN ASSET.

By pursuing its plans in characteristically enthusiastic fashion it is to be expected that the local Rotary Club will be successful in raising sufficient funds for the establishment of a T. B. clinic at the Jubilee Hospital. Such a project is worthy of the whole-hearted support of the people of this community. For with them will rest the obligation to prevent the spread of the malady until the State consents to measure up to a standard, which present-day civilization really demands, and recognizes the full value of the human asset.

In this connection might not the medical profession in Victoria set an example to the rest of the country and propose the weekly gift of an hour or two of time to the study of suspected cases of those diseases in which early advice or elementary treatment might save a life and protect the community at large? Would an inexpensively equipped clinic at the two hospitals—where scientific facility already exists—suit such a purpose? If such an arrangement should be feasible many a man or woman unable to pay the two or three dollars to have a suspicion confirmed or dispelled might be relieved of considerable distress.

Note and Comment

Mr. Richard Waugh says he is not at all sorry to leave the Saar and return to Manitoba. Compared with his task on the European Commission we should imagine that administering the new liquor law of the Prairie Province will be a fairly simple affair.

Several thousands of Mennonites from Southern Russia are already on their way to Canada. We shall hope that they are coming to this country fully prepared to obey her laws and become good Canadians. Unless they are their presence here will be a doubtful asset.

Harvesters from British Columbia to the Prairies last year numbered about 6,000. This year only about 3,500 will find their way across the Rockies. This is satisfactory news because it indicates a substantial improvement of conditions in this Province. Those who have migrated to California and are wishing they had remained here will no doubt find the comparison of interest.

A post office exhibit at the forthcoming exhibition should prove of considerable interest to the many thousands who will visit this important local event. Lots of things are unjustly blamed upon the postal authorities; but the marvel of it is that only once in a "blue moon" does a letter or parcel go astray. At any rate an exhibit in "self-defence" will no doubt serve a useful and interesting purpose.

TORONTO TO THE GOOD

Cranbrook Herald:—No more need the west be reproached for its "wild and woolly" proclivities; when in the heart of the financial district of Toronto a hundred thousand dollar bank robbery is perpetrated in broad daylight, and the thieves making a spectacular getaway with all the customary stage settings, a big car and a fusillade of shots.

POTENTIAL ENEMIES

St. John Telegraph-Journal:—Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt is reported as saying that thirty of the sixty-two civilized nations of the world are potential enemies of the United States. But much of the news of the day tends to create doubt whether there are in reality sixty-two civilized nations, and some pessimistic folk might deny there are as many as thirty.

PLEADS FOR TEMPORARY SACRIFICE

To the Editor:—It has been very evident to me for some time that one of the chief reasons Victoria has got into its present depressed and moribund condition is through the selfish narrow viewpoint taken by the majority of us. I mean by this that every move instigated by our local organizations succeeds or is defeated by the personal interests of the individual members, and not on its merits or demerits; the main object is lost sight of when it comes to a vote, in the personal effect of the motion which is being considered. The "viewpoint of the average" individual is very often so narrow that he or she cannot possibly be made to see how indirectly they will get more benefit at some future date by sinking selfishness for the moment and suffering some temporary loss or inconvenience thereby. A good illustration of what I mean is given by the retail clerks, when it is suggested that they give up the half holiday in the middle of the week, which is a detriment to the men who employ them as well as the city generally.

I have received several anonymous letters in the last few days from which I give extracts to prove the assertion I have just made. One of these precious letters is as follows: "Re-half holiday. Just beware your business does not show a decrease with the proposed work on Wednesday afternoon. Certainly refuse to spend one cent with any merchant supporting the scheme. How about the Parliament Buildings? Try having their doors open say at 7 a.m. and close at 6 p.m. You will notice, fellow citizens, this anonymous correspondent leads off with a direct threat to boycott if the pleasure of the retail clerks is interfered with, by doing away with the half holiday. After a whole lot of drivel on the line that this liberty of each limited by the like liberty of all, is the rule in conformity with which society must be organized.

Freedom being the prerequisite to normal life, the individual, equal freedom becomes the prerequisite to normal life in society. And if this law of equal freedom is the primary law of right relationship between man and man, then no desire to get fulfilled a secondary law can warrant us in breaking it.

Does Mr. Milne think that this "freedom" which Spencer says is the "prerequisite to normal life" can be secured in a society where there is not "equal responsibility"? Mr. Milne says there are other points in my letter that he would like to refer to. I hope he will be good enough to measure the "energy units" of his proposed currency.

MR. PIERCE REPLIES

To the Editor:—Mr. Milne's letter in your's of Monday, 20th, is a disappointment. He quibbles between the "work" and says "Blessed Be Work" would have been a suitable heading for my last letter.

Seeing that everything we enjoy today is the result of "work" and that everything we can hope for in the future must come "via work" I certainly do say "Blessed Be Work." Work—productive work—is the natural outlet for man's creative impulses, and only in the exercise of this can he find his highest satisfaction.

Mr. Milne belittles the "satisfaction of being able to say we have earned all we have got" and apparently sees no moral objection to "receiving something for nothing."

I am surprised that he does so, because that "satisfaction" and that "moral objection" holds true and we cannot get away from it.

If we want our present civilization to go the way of all those that have preceded it, we must build on the supposition that one class can live at the expense of another class will surely do it. This is the essence of slavery no matter how it is camouflaged.

Nothing that I have said can be interpreted to mean that I want to "make work" just for the sake of making it, as Mr. Milne suggests. All that he has said about the present methods of "making work" holds good when directed towards the present day system.

Who are to be the beneficiaries of any currency based on anything else will end up just where we are today, facing financial disaster.

Mr. Milne says: "If a few men who are able and willing can produce enough for the needs of many." The answer is plain: If a thing is not "equitable" it must be inequitable; there is no other alternative, and inequity cannot form a basis for anything permanent.

"Would it not be much better to give the others their portion?" How did it become "their portion" if they contributed nothing towards its production?

And let those actively engaged find their reward in the financial incentive which would yield plenty.

(I fail to see what financial incentive there would be to work while the "others" could get "their portion" without working.)

The way in which the "others" may use their leisure can be safely left to them to decide.

Not by a jugful, Mr. Milne may think so, but history tells a different story. In the Roman Empire they tried that. They had plenty of leisure without equal responsibility, and the use they made of it is no encouragement to us to take chances.

So long as a man is contributing his share towards the production of the good things he receives—and is thus earning the leisure that he and all others enjoy—I believe that leisure will be safe in his hands, but if it is secured from others without effort on his part he becomes a moral monstrosity—he is "receiving something for nothing" and the road down hill for him is already grooved. "Liberty of action," says Herbert Spencer, "being the first essential to exercise of faculties, and therefore the first essential to happiness; and the liberty of each limited by the like liberty of all, being the form which this first essential assumes when applied to many instead of one; it follows that this liberty of each limited by the like liberty of all, is the rule in conformity with which society must be organized.

Freedom being the prerequisite to normal life, the individual, equal freedom becomes the prerequisite to normal life in society. And if this law of equal freedom is the primary law of right relationship between man and man, then no desire to get fulfilled a secondary law can warrant us in breaking it.

Does Mr. Milne think that this "freedom" which Spencer says is the "prerequisite to normal life" can be secured in a society where there is not "equal responsibility"? Mr. Milne says there are other points in my letter that he would like to refer to. I hope he will be good enough to measure the "energy units" of his proposed currency.

GEORGE INGLEDEN

IS G. W. V. A. CHOICE

Unanimously Endorsed as Sub-Advocate Nominee; Officers Elected

George Ingleden was unanimously endorsed by the Great War Veterans' Association last night as the association's nominee for the post of sub-advocate to present the case of returned men before the District Appeal Board. The office of advocate for British Columbia goes to the mainland with a salary of $3,000 a year. The sub-advocate, with a salary of $2,000 a year, goes to Vancouver Island, where he will handle cases. Mr. Ingleden, who was also named president at the annual meeting of the Great War Veterans' Association last night was likewise endorsed as one of the six nominees passed upon by the mass meeting of ex-service men as acceptable for the post.

In reporting upon his choice for sub-advocate, which was unanimously endorsed, the G.W.V.A. executive last night stated that it believed the man appointed should be one conversant with the men of this district, and from the labor market point of view, it should be a man who was either unemployed or not receiving the same remuneration at present as was offered for the position. They had no objection to any man in the field for the post, but as a matter of policy, they did not agree to throw up a four-hour-a-day job, and they believed there were more confidence in not receiving the salary offered who could fill the bill. From a labor standpoint they believe this was the best method of handling the matter, and also they must get away from the idea that they had to keep going to certain men to get anything done. They should have more confidence in themselves and make their own big men. Comrade Ingleden was acquainted with the needs of the men of the district and familiar with army work. He had fought the case of gratuities and had considerable experience on headquarters staff. Men with complaints on disabilities and pensions could talk to him as a comrade, and a man from the ranks with greater freedom and ease than they could to a former colonel or officer. They had too long accepted the idea that a man to receive these appointments must be a former officer, the executive declared.

During informal discussion it was stated that Ian Mackenzie, M.P., Walter Drinnan, provincial secretary of the G.W.V.A., and H. Despard Twigg were among the possibilities for the British Columbia advocate's post.

Officers of the G.W.V.A. for the next six months were chosen. Col. P. M. Codville, D.S.O., was unanimously named—honorary president; Comrade Ingleden, president; Comrade George Bryson, first vice-president; Comrade D. Shirat, second vice-president; Comrade W. G. King, treasurer; Comrade H. W. F. King, sergeant-at-arms; Comrade George Food, retiring president, automatically becomes a member of the executive. Other members of the executive elected were Comrades H. Lawrie, J. J. Martin, Colonel Ross Napier, Don Martyn, George Asquith and J. L. Lantry.

Comrade Stone mentioned that he was entering upon his sixth year of holding office without interruption as an executive officer of the Great War Veterans' Association.

NOMINATE MEN TO ADVOCATE PENSION CLAIMS ON ISLAND

Government to Pick One of Six Veterans Chosen by Mass Meeting

At a mass meeting last night Victoria returned soldiers nominated six men for the position of sub-advocate for Vancouver Island to lay their case before the District Appeal Board, appointed under new Federal pension legislation at Vancouver.

To fill the position of sub-advocate for this district the Government will pick one of the following, nominated last night. In this order: Joshua Hinchliffe, M.P.; Robert Macnicol, Col. F. A. Robertson, D.S.O., R. A. McIntyre, Dr. Denton Holmes and George Ingleden. These names were wired last night to the headquarters of the Veterans' Alliance at Ottawa and the Provincial Great War Veterans' Association at Vancouver.

All candidates nominated by the returned men last night strongly urged that the veterans should get solidly behind the man who is finally chosen. Mr. Hinchliffe, in fact, refused at first to stand until he was assured that the veterans were unanimous in supporting him. Later, however, he allowed his name to go forward.

"The salary of $200 a month doesn't tempt me at all," Mr. Hinchliffe declared. "I want to tell you that my name is not going forward. When I was informed that the post was to be a football among the returned men I was not keen to accept it. This job of soldier advocate will not allow the returned men to stand together, but whoever secures the position will cause hard feeling among the returned men. One consideration I firmly believe, and that is that the best fitted man should be the one to secure the nomination and appointment. Finally, after being urged to allow his name to go forward, Mr. Hinchliffe agreed to stand.

Urges United Action

"I personally am not anxious for the job," Colonel Robertson declared when his name was advanced. He wanted to see the veterans united in the choice of their advocate, he said.

Comrade McIntyre said that if he were nominated there would be no strings on him. He wanted this understood.

Comrade Macnicol said he would stand by the man who was nominated. He believed that he was in touch with returned soldiers' problems through his position in the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment here.

In nominating Dr. Denton Holmes Comrade R. P. Matheson said: "I do not know Dr. Holmes personally."

"I do know, however, that four years ago he was let out by the Federal Government because 'he was too strenuous in pushing pension cases that required attention.'"

Comrade C. E. Faulkner presided at the meeting. Comrade H. P. Thorpe outlined to the veterans the purpose of the meeting and the necessity of appointing the right man to the position of advocate.

"Not much altered here," she remarked. "It looks just as it did when I used to come to tea with you before we were married."

"The neighborhood is a conservative one," he replied. "Still, I must confess that I am glad I never gave the rooms up. I don't think that nature intended me to dwell in palaces."

"Perhaps not," she agreed, a little hesitantly. "It is a habit of yours to think and live parochially. Now what did you want of me, please?"

"There is a scheme on foot," he began. "To bring about my political ruin."

"You don't mean to tell me," she exclaimed, with a sudden light in her eyes, "that you, my well-loved Andrew, have been playing around? You are not going to be a correspondent or anything of that sort?"

"I used the word 'political,'" he reminded her coldly. "You would not understand the situation, but its interest and my danger centres round a certain document which was stolen from my study at Martinhoe on or before the day of my arrival from London last August."

"How dull!" she murmured.

"That document," he went on, "was purloined by Anthony Palliser from the safe in my study. It was either upon him when he disappeared, or he disposed of it on the afternoon of my arrival to a political opponent of mine—James Miller."

"I had so hoped there was a lady in the case," she yawned.

"If you will give me your attention for one moment longer," he begged, "it will be all I ask. I want you to tell me, first of all, whether James Miller called at the Manor that afternoon and saw Palliser."

IN WOMAN'S DOMAIN

WOMAN "BOSS" AND MEMBER OF TAMMANY HALL

Mrs. Henry Moskowitz is one of the powers behind the throne in New York State politics. She is just over forty years of age, has been married twice and has three children. Her husband is an industrial consulting engineer and social worker. Formerly a Bull Moose and backer of Theodore Roosevelt, she is now a member of Tammany Hall.

Starting at 18, in social settlement work, she organized the Committee on Amusement Resources for Working Girls, and was among the first to seek legislation to clean up dance halls.

From 1912 to 1916 she was manager of the labor department of the Dress and Waist Manufacturers' Association. She has also been secretary of the educational council of the Port Authority of New York; secretary of the Mayor Mitchell's Committee of Women; member of the Citizens' Committee to investigate the police at the time of the Rosenthal-Baker case; vice-chairman of the Democratic Union; and director, Women's City Club, Council of Jewish Women, Society to Promote Better Housing for Girls, and Travelers' Aid Society.

DIVORCE BILL FOR EQUAL CAUSES IS NOW PASSED

New Law in Great Britain of Interest to Women's Council

After strenuous opposition from unexpected quarters, and surprising support from Labor members and noted clerics in the House of Commons, the new divorce act for Great Britain recently passed the House of Lords in its final stage before coming into force.

The act is designed for easier divorce for women. Hitherto the British law has been similar to that of Canada, that while a husband could obtain a divorce from his wife on the ground of cruelty only, a wife had to show proof of cruelty or desertion as well as misconduct.

Supporters of the new bill alleged that this state of things was grossly unfair to the woman and had a tendency to the collusive divorces which so often escape the notice of the King's Proctor.

A noted cleric in the House of Commons, in supporting the bill, denounced the double standard of morals. Labor members voicing their disapproval of the measure, many of the bill's opponents declared that it meant easier divorce and a dangerous weakening of the sanctity of marriage.

The passing of the bill is of more than passing interest to the Local Council of Women, which has for many years sought an amendment of the Canada Divorce laws and the abolition of the double moral standard.

MARRIED TO-DAY

A quiet, though pretty wedding was solemnized this morning at Broadbent, when Rev. Dr. Campbell united in marriage Violet, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pike, of Langford, and Fred, the youngest son of the late Samuel Blanchard, builder and contractor, and Mrs. Jones, of this city. The bride, who was given away by her mother, looked charming in a navy tailored tricot suit, her hat being a Paris model, white satin souleite. She carried a beautiful bouquet of white roses and heather, and was attended by Miss M. Goucher, who was also smartly attired in a navy tailored suit with hat to match. She also carried a beautiful bouquet of white carnations.

The bridegroom was supported by Mr. F. C. Mealing. After the ceremony the happy couple left by motor for Vancouver and Nanaimo, when after a short honeymoon they will return to Victoria to bid their many friends goodbye before leaving for their home in Los Angeles, Calif.

FAMOUS DOCTOR PROMISES WOMEN ETERNAL YOUTH

Will Announce Secret of Everlasting Girlhood in November

London, Aug. 22.—The rejuvenation of women as well as men, and without the aid of the beauty doctor and the dressmaker, has been promised by Dr. Voronoff, the famous monkey gland expert. Dr. Voronoff explained during the recent International Surgical Congress that he was making experiments at the present time, and expected to be able to announce the secret of everlasting girlhood about November.

The announcement that he expected to make grandmothers into debutantes caused a sensation among the delegates, and many of them were frank in saying that they believed it utterly impossible. In fact, some of them said he ought not to do it, one prominent social worker of London declared:

"What the doctors should do is to find some means of preserving the strength of women of seventy, so that they could give the benefit of their ripe experience to those in need of it. Women who have grown old naturally prefer nature to take its own course. There are women who would give anything to have their lost beauty and youth restored, but they are of the selfish type."

Dr. Voronoff refuses to discuss the subject further other than to say he has progressed to the extent that he is certain of success.

Comptroller of Largest Canadian Telephone Co. En Route to Convention

The effort to secure an all-Canadian telephone connection, by linking up the sections already with telephone service, is making steady progress, said E. Palm, comptroller of the Bell Telephone Company, in The Times this morning on his arrival from Montreal.

Mr. Palm, who is accompanied by Mrs. Palm, is making a western tour in order to attend a convention of executives of telephone companies, which will be held in Edmonton this year. Mr. Palm is an old friend of F. C. Patterson, Victoria superintendent of the B.C. Telephone Company, who acted as his host during the brief period he was here before going to Seattle.

The cost of construction has steadily advanced, Mr. Palm stated, "and yet in spite of operating expenses going up the demand for telephone service throughout Canada is increasing rapidly, so that Canada is now the second country in the world in number of telephones per capita. To achieve the objective of an all-Canadian route, without the present necessary use of American lines, there will have to be links between the British Columbia and Alberta lines, between the Manitoba and Ontario lines, and also in Eastern Quebec between the lines in the Maritime Provinces and the Bell lines in the St. Lawrence Valley. The Bell Telephone Co., like the B.C. Telephone Company, has a Dominion charter. They are the only telephone companies in Canada with Federal charters.

Mr. Palm expressed an optimistic opinion with regard to the development of the telephone business in Canada, as one which will attain to even greater proportions than hitherto, owing to the public demand for efficient service.

KIWIANS EXPECT
OFFICIAL VISITOR

C. W. Parker, international secretary of the Kiwanis Club, will be in Victoria shortly after the return of the delegates from the Astoria convention next week. Kiwanians here are prepared to welcome him at their usual weekly luncheon gathering, and are desirous of having as good an attendance at their meeting as possible, both to welcome the distinguished guest and to demonstrate that Kiwanians here are alive to the responsibilities of their club.

Mr. Parker will arrive here in the course of two weeks, and will spend some few days in the city. It is expected that after the luncheon which he will have completed at the convention in Astoria, and the many days of respectability he will have undergone, he has chosen Victoria as a place for a few days' respite and recreation.

President Kenneth Ferguson yesterday stated that he hoped to see the Kiwanis present a united front of welcome and good-will to Mr. Parker. The international secretary's reputation has earned for him universal respect and admiration among Kiwanians, and it is the wish of the local club members that this admiration be mutual.

Carl Stocker, of the Victoria Kiwanis Club, who is taking a party of members with him in his automobile to the Astoria convention, has announced that any other Kiwanians who are desirous of attending the convention will be transported there with the rest of the

LUCKENBACH LINE
HAS NEW SERVICE

Vessels Operating From New York to San Francisco to Connect With North

Seattle, Aug. 22.—Instituting a new intercoastal passenger service, the Luckenbach line, will sail from New York August 25 for Los Angeles and San Francisco. It was learned today from M. J. Wright, Northwest manager of the Luckenbach Company, that the service at present will be only as far as San Francisco, but connection may be made by coastal steamships operating out of this port.

The Jacob Luckenbach will sail eastbound from San Francisco September 25. The vessel has accommodations for forty first cabin passengers, rooms with twin beds, and artificial ventilating for the cabin zone.

On her second voyage in the new passenger service, the Jacob Luckenbach will sail from New York October 24, arriving in San Francisco November 14. Eastbound, the vessel will sail from San Francisco November 20, arriving in New York December 9.

The Jacob Luckenbach is a vessel of 15,000 tons displacement, 420 feet long. All her cabin accommodations are outside rooms, located on the upper deck.

A new arrangement for handling cargo on Puget Sound will go into effect with the arrival of the steamship Dorothy Luckenbach in Seattle September 25. The Dorothy Luckenbach will be the first vessel of the Luckenbach fleet to berth at the wharf of the East Waterway Dock and Warehouse Company, under the recent arrangements. She will load in Seattle all her Puget Sound cargo, canned salmon and Oriental freight. She is scheduled to sail from Seattle for North Atlantic ports via San Francisco and Los Angeles September 8.

PASSENGERS ARE STRANDED

London, Aug. 22.—Hundreds of would-be passengers on the damaged C.P.R. Empress of Scotland have been stranded in London and Southampton through yesterday's accident to the liner, which struck a submerged wreck on her way from Hamburg to Southampton and was so badly damaged that her sailing for Quebec was cancelled. The prospective passengers face an indefinite prolongation of their stay in this country as there are no passages available on the other ships due to sail in the near future.

Some of the first class and second class passengers have been taken in Southampton hotels, but the majority of them have returned to London. A few of the first class will sail on a Canadian Pacific boat from Liverpool Saturday, but the majority of them are likely to have to wait until the Empress of Scotland sails, which will probably not be for two or three weeks.

delegates by motor car. It is expected that a large number of local clubmen will be present at the convention, and possibly more may be prevailed upon to travel South when they learn of Mr. Stocker's announcement.

Chicasaw City Went Ashore Near Angeles

Isthmian Line Steamer Outbound For the United Kingdom Struck in Fog Early This Morning; Coastguard Cutter Snohomish Is Standing By; Expect to Float Her at High Tide

The Chicasaw City, of the Isthmian Line, went ashore west of Port Angeles in the Straits of Juan de Fuca early this morning, it was learned through wireless dispatch and information received at the Pacific Salvage Company this morning.

The exact time of her grounding was not ascertained, but the mishap is thought to have taken place some time before four o'clock this morning in the fog. The safety of the ship and crew is assured by the presence of the United States coastguard cutter Snohomish, which is standing by at present.

Little damage has been done and according to advices the vessel is expected to be floated at high tide this afternoon.

The vessel is a comparatively new steamer, being built in 1920 for the United States Steel Products Company. The vessel is 6,081 gross tons and has a length of 395 feet. Her beam is 55 feet, while the depth is 31.4 feet.

She arrived at Vancouver on August 17, after loading on Puget Sound. She had come from New York, and on completing loading at Vancouver left last night outbound for the United Kingdom via the Panama Canal.

The Pacific Salvage Company's steamer Algerine was in readiness to go to the scene this morning. No call was made, but in emergency the Algerine will be sent out. Steam is up, and everything ready to commence with the salvage work if necessary.

The Atlas Steamship Company's vessel Rainier, which was rammed by the Japanese steamer Mandasan Maru near Race Rocks on July 27, is to be dismantled. After a thorough survey and inspection of the damage sustained by the steam schooner, it was decided that it would be impractical to repair the vessel, and her owners will have the craft dismantled.

The fact that the deck of the Rainier had been forced out of position four inches, and more in some places, renders the work of repairing the ship impractical, as well as highly expensive if undertaken. As a result the machinery and boilers of the vessel, which are in good condition, will be removed and installed in another vessel to be built soon probably by the Atlas Steamship Company, the owners of the disabled ship.

The Rainier, built at Hoodham in 1900, is of wood construction, 204 feet long, with a beam of thirty-eight feet. She has been operated continuously on this coast. She made several voyages to Alaska during the gold rush days, but most of her activities have been confined to service between California and Northwest ports.

Submarine Came To Top, Listed
and Then Sank

Tokyo, Aug. 22.—The newest Japanese submarine, just returned from a short trial trip, sank this morning at the Kawasaki docks at Kobe, and eighty-five members of her crew, missing, are believed to have lost their lives. The captain, chief engineer, five dockyard engineers and four other naval officers were saved. The cause of the accident has not been determined.

The submarine had completed her trial trip and had come to the surface when, listing heavily, she started to sink. The captain ordered all the openings closed. Before his orders could be carried out, however, the water rushed in and the vessel sank.

NAVAL DEPARTMENT
ISSUES STATEMENT
ON GERMAN LOSS

Figures Show That Germany Lost 187 Submarines During World War

Big Personnel Loss; 5,364 Lives Toll

Washington, Aug. 22.—One hundred and seventy-eight German submarines were "lost in action" during the war, according to an official report just received by the Navy Department. The loss in personnel is given as 5,364, of whom 515 were officers. These figures are believed by officials here to be the first authentic information on this subject to be obtained. Four years were consumed in checking official records and interviewing members of the German admiralty who had charge of undersea craft.

Depth charges accounted for thirty-seven submarines, fixed mines for thirty-six, torpedoes for twenty-two, ramming eight, armed fishing craft six, aeroplane (bombing) six and subchasers thirteen. Accidental ramming of German submarines by two cruisers and two by artillery fire from the shore. One was sunk by a liner at the entrance to the British main base of Scapa Flow, the famous U-29 under Capt. Wedigen.

A chart accompanying the report shows that fifty-six of the undersea boats were lost in the English Channel, twenty-six in the North Sea, sixteen in the Mediterranean, sixteen on the east coast of England, twelve off the Dutch coast, three near Heilgoland, two in Scapa Flow and the remainder in far-separated spots in the world's oceans.

Of the boats interned before the German fleet was delivered to the Allies, the report says that twelve were sold to Spain and two to Holland, while fourteen were demolished.

Inspection of the books of ship-building firms holding contracts showed that 231 submarines had been delivered and 197 were under construction when the armistice was signed.

Kongosan Maru Was in Collision

San Francisco, Aug. 22.—The Japanese freighter Kongosan Maru, bound from Kobe to San Francisco, collided in a dense fog to-day with the motorship Frank Lynch, bound from Puget Sound to San Pedro, at a point thirty-five miles northwest of Point Reyes, on the Northern California coast. The vessel was badly damaged, and both are proceeding to San Francisco under their own power. The Frank Lynch is heavily loaded with lumber.

BASEBALL, CRICKET

Fishermen Have Great Time in Landing Cohoes

Salmon Are Running Well in Straits and Many Big Catches Reported

There's plenty of sport in the Straits of Juan de Fuca right now. The fish are running—and they are running well.

Any man who wants a lot of exercise, combined with some real sport, should hire a boat and take a row out to Brothie Ledge, Trial Island or Fiddle Reef. He is practically sure to land a nice bag, and he'll have something good to talk about for awhile because the fish are fighting.

All kinds of good reports are being received of the fishing. From Race Rocks clear around to Cowichan Bay the fish seem just to be looking for spoons.

Some Big Bags

Off Trial Island yesterday one fisherman hooked nineteen beauties while another boat returned to port with twenty-seven. Off Race Rocks a party was kept busy pulling in and letting out the lines, and had close to forty fish when they got back to land.

Mr. Marsh, of Oak Bay, who has been taking parties out to some favorite spots near there, reports that one of his boats brought in twelve fish and another twenty-seven fish, and they were all caught within three hours.

One of Mr. Marsh's parties got the thrill of his life when a thirty-five pound Spring salmon swallowed his hook. Having but a light rod and line the angler had to be very careful not to lose the prize, and after forty-five minutes of fighting he landed the beautiful specimen.

During the last week the run has become very heavy, and there is every indication that it will remain good for some time. In the early morning and evening the water is really running. Brothie Ledge and Trial Island and off Oak Bay is dotted with small boats, each seeking its quota of cohoes.

The majority of the fish being caught are cohoes, while an occasional Spring is being hooked.

CANADIAN WRESTLER WINS GREAT MATCH

Jack Taylor Makes Freberg Quit While Still Standing on His Feet

Winnipeg, Aug. 22.—Jack Taylor, Canadian heavy-weight wrestling champion, again demonstrated his superiority over Jack Freberg, Chicago, wrestler, in a finish match here last night with the toss, held barred. Taylor won the third fall, after one of the most sensational matches seen here for some time.

Taylor won through forcing Freberg to give in after being tortured by an arm lock, and both falls were awarded with both men on their feet. Taylor took the fifth fall in fifty minutes after some spectacular work in which both men showed cleverness in escaping dangerous holds. Taylor, after punishing Freberg's arm, severely, finally forced the visitor to yield with an arm lock.

Freberg evened the count in fifty-five seconds when he tossed Taylor in the air and flopped him on his back.

The final fall was somewhat sudden. Taylor playing for Freberg's injured arm, finally secured an arm lock, and the Swede quit after two minutes and thirty-five seconds.

VANCOUVER RACING

Vancouver, Aug. 22.—Barely outstanding Eelman, who was ridden hard by his jockey, Frank Gibson, won the first race yesterday and paid her backers $22.50 straight, $10.00 place, and $12.50 to show. Eelman, also a long shot, paid $32.00 to place and $17.00 to show. The second race, a consolation for favorites, was unable to overcome the lead of the two outsiders.

One of the surprises of the afternoon came in the third, when De Beers came from behind to beat the heavily played Kinglike by a length and a half, returning his backers the handsome price of $11.50 for not a ticket.

Summary of Results

Race Between Zev and Papyrus Would Not Decide Title

Reds Make Race Very Thrilling For McGrawites

London, Aug. 22.—The owners of some of the largest racing stables in England do not share the view expressed in cables from New York that a race between Zev and Papyrus would be at all in the nature of a world's championship, or even a match between the best three-year-olds on either side of the Atlantic.

There is no popular feeling here that Papyrus is the best British three-year-old. In fact, there has been no outstanding horse in this class on the English tracks this year.

On paper Papyrus seems to be just as good as any. He has not raced since he won the Derby by a slim margin from Pharos, but he will soon get a good test in the St. Ledger stakes.

Will Make Early Start in Soccer Field This Year

League Holds First Meeting and Calls for Entries; Start on Sept. 15

Football in Victoria is to get away to an early start this Fall. If the desires of the officials of the Victoria and District Amateur Football League are carried out, the teams will play the opening matches on Saturday, September 15.

For the past two years the teams have not been ready to start until early in October, but President Alex Robertson, of the V.D.A.F.L., is determined to get the boys moving earlier this season.

A meeting of the Victoria and District League was held last evening, and a large number of club officials were on hand to discuss the situation. Everyone agreed that it would be a good thing to get the season underway as early as possible.

Call for Entries

It was decided to issue a call immediately for entries for both the first and second division, all clubs intending to enter are requested to send in their entries before September 4 to the secretary, J. C. Dowds, 285 Queen's Avenue, telephone 3043 Y.

The First Division entrance fee is $1.50 and the Second Division fee $1.00. In speaking of the prospects for the coming season, President Robertson said that he believed there would be plenty of good football. He was unable to say just what teams would be in the race, but from the information he had gathered he was convinced that the local fans would have little cause to complain about the calibre of the game this winter.

The league will hold a meeting on September 4 to consider the entries and make final arrangements for the opening of the games.

Jackman Cup Series

The Jackman Cup series this winter will be staged simultaneously with the City League, and this will ensure that all teams competing will be at the top of their form. By holding the series after the regular playing season the teams have gone stale through lack of practice.

The Sons of England intend to have a team in the First Division this year, and an organization meeting will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the Y.M.C.A. All players and members of the club are asked to attend.

The British Columbia Junior Football Association reminds all affiliated clubs that the affiliation fee of $3 for season 1923-24 is now due and should be paid to the secretary, H. J. Edwards, 5784 Fraser Street, Vancouver, B.C., before taking part in any league or other competition. Any new club associations desiring to affiliate should make application to the secretary.

Shamrock IV Says a Goodbye to New York

New York, Aug. 22.—Sir Thomas Lipton yesterday said good-bye to his trim racing craft Shamrock IV, which started for England in charge of Captain William Martin, and a crew of eight. They expect to reach their destination in about eighteen days with good weather conditions.

The Shamrock IV is to be used as a "trial horse" for the Shamrock V which will be built along similar lines, and with which Sir Thomas hopes to capture the cup in 1925.

Other Entries

Robert Buller, of the Elks Swimming Club, is going to try out over the distance for the first time in the competition. He is quite able to make the distance, and some of those who have watched him going over the long course say that he is going to make all the leaders hustle.

The Elks are reported to have a "dark horse" groomed for the race, and that he will be the one to beat. No mention has been made of the name of the swimmers.

Norman Purdie, of the Elks, is reported to have swum the distance already this year in sixty-six minutes, which is the fastest that has been done yet. He will be one of the boys to watch.

Harry Pappas will carry the color of the Y.M.C.A. in the big race. He is swimming very steadily.

Many other entries from the Elks, V.A.S.C. and the V.I.A.A. are expected before tomorrow night and these, with the four entries from Vancouver will provide one of the classiest fields that has ever faced the starter.

Handicap Will Help

The sealed handicap, which is being experimented with, is adding to the interest of the swim. The Times, as usual, is providing four cups besides the perpetual challenge cup for the race, but the officials of the British Columbia branch of the C.A.S.A. believe that a sealed handicap will add to the interest and have donated four prizes. The handicapping will all be done by V. J. Dunn, secretary of the branch and official handicapper. The sealed handicap will give the slower swimmers a chance to win a prize.

Sends in Entry for Times Swim; R. Buller and H. Pappas Also Enter

Entries for The Times long-distance swim through Victoria are coming in very well, and all other swimmers are expected to be admitted to get their forms in before tomorrow night.

This morning Audrey Griffin, of the V.I.A.A., has sent in her entry for the long-distance swim, and she is not worrying and feels that anyone who defeats her will have to swim a mighty fast and hard stroke.

REGINA GOALIE WILL NOT PLAY THIS YEAR

Toronto, Aug. 22.—"Billy" Laird, of Regina, one of the best goalkeepers the University of Toronto ever had and now regarded as one of the best in the world, has accepted a position in this city, and has taken up his residence here. As he is now a professional, his services will not be available for O.H.A. teams and if the Toronto desire to use him, it will be necessary to arrange his transfer from the Regina team.

Gymkhana to Be Held at Willows Track on Sept. 1

Steeplechase Will Be Outstanding Feature of Interesting Programme

Arrangements have been made by the Victoria Riding and Polo Club to hold a gymkhana at the Willows track on Saturday afternoon September 1. The affair is being supported by the Army and Navy, and many entries from those branches of the services are expected.

The feature event on the programme will be the steeplechase, a one and one-half mile course. This popular form of racing was introduced on May 24 at the Willows, and caught on well with the public.

A number of fine steeplechasers are now in this city and will make the fast little mare, Judy, which won on Victoria Day, step to win.

The programme will be as follows: Bayonet fighting, Army vs. Navy; mile and a half steeplechase; tug-of-war; cigar and umbrella race; pony race; tent-peggings; bending race; the David Spencer jumping contest; walk, ride and biscuit race, and thread and needle race.

Taylor Cracks And Espinosa Retains Title

Local Professional Went to Aberdeen

Aberdeen, Aug. 22.—Al Espinosa, professional of the Inglewood Country Club, Seattle, who finished six strokes behind Phil Taylor, professional of the Victoria Golf Club, Victoria, B.C., on Monday in the first thirty-six holes, yesterday retained the Washington state open championship with a total of 289 for the seventy-two holes. Taylor and Morrie Dutra, professional at the Grays Harbor Country Club, on the links of which here the tournament was played, tied for second place with 284.

Espinosa tied the course record at sixty-seven for eighteen holes on yesterday morning's round. At the twenty-fourth hole he squared the count with Taylor. His victory was the result of a putting streak that took the heart out of Taylor, who had the all-time to be drawn with his most feared rival.

Taylor, Pacific Northwest open champion, saw his opponent run time after time from all corners of the greens. When he was unable to duplicate

LINIMENT FOUND TO BE POWERFUL GERMICIDE

Originally, Absorbine Jr. was sold only as a pain reliever and an embrocation. It was quickly discovered that the liniment was positive death to all forms of germ life, and it is now used as a mouth wash, for wound dressing and for all disinfecting purposes.

Another surprise was yet in store. A. W. Pratt of Springfield, Mass., applied Absorbine Jr. to a varicose vein to relieve the intense pain. Not only did the pain leave, but he noticed every day the swollen vein becoming smaller. The treatment was kept up and, today, Mr. Pratt's legs, though he has never used anything else on them, are as smooth as when he was a boy. It has now been proved that Absorbine Jr. is an actual specific for varicose veins, leg ulcers, boils, pyorrhea and a number of other ailments and injuries besides that for which it was first prepared. CITY SEEKS TO PRESERVE ROCK DAY BRIDGE SITE

Want to Help New Shingle Mill, But Avoid Surrender of Traffic Rights

Plans for protecting the city's right to install a bridge across Rock Bay some time in the future in spite of the construction of the Canadian Puget Sound Lumber Company's new shingle mill on the site of the old bridge, were taken up at the City Hall today by Acting Mayor George Sangster.

So that there would be no delay in settling the question and allowing a start on the shingle mill, City Solicitor H. S. Pringle was called to his office in the City Hall from his vacation to-day to consider the legal difficulties involved. Mr. Pringle is busy drawing up a plan under which the shingle mill would be built as the lumber company desires and the city's bridge rights fully protected.

"The lumber company wants to put its mill just at the south end of the old Rock Bay Bridge," Alderman Sangster explained to-day. "While it does not seem probable that we shall be able to build a bridge there again, at least for many years, at the same time we feel that the city's rights should be preserved. That can only be done by giving the lumber company a lease of the desired land, subject to the city's bridge and road requirements. We are trying to draft a plan along these lines now."

Alderman Sangster intimated that the Council was determined to assist the lumber company in its new enterprise. "We can only do so by giving the lumber company a lease of the desired land, subject to the city's bridge and road requirements. We are trying to draft a plan along these lines now."

PHOTOGRAPHING POLICE PASTIME OF MANY TOURISTS

Patient Patrolmen Gratify Whim of American Visitors

Snapshots of Victoria constables are among the souvenirs that tourists take away from the city. Photographing policemen has swept Victoria like the blue, green, red and other highly colored and popular. The tourists too, are considerate. At the C.P.R. wharf a constable is often photographed by tourists as many as twenty times a day, and invariably the visitors on their return send a copy to the officer. Opening the policeman's mail and distributing photographs is fast becoming a duty as important as that of the screen idols receiving hundreds of letters a day, the only difference being the blue coat instead of the photographs. Frequently the officer photographed has a fair tourist on either side, or is requested to place a real picture to take back to the United States of an arrest in Victoria.

The constables oblige the tourists willingly. "Extend every possible courtesy to tourists" is among the notices posted in the police station for guidance of the force, and this means a matter of great importance to the man on the beat. The questions they are called upon to answer are numerous and varied. "How long does a coat of paint last on a building in this city?" was the question put to one member of the force recently.

PLANS FOR BRITISH EMPIRE EXHIBITION BEING CONSIDERED

British Columbia Will Pay $24,000 Towards Cost

British Columbia's share of the costs for the British Empire Exhibition, to be held in 1924 near London, England, is approximately $24,000, it was announced to The Times this morning. Last September, Major E. A. Belcher, of London, and a party of officials who were instructed to make arrangements for the British Empire Exhibition, were in Victoria.

According to the instructions of A. W. Toimie, Canadian Exhibit Commissioner, Ottawa, there are several prominent men who are engaged in arranging for an attractive exhibition of British Columbia products. F. R. E. DeHart, of Kelowna, is making arrangements for the fruit exhibits from this province; the Forestry and Agriculture Departments of the Provincial Government are interesting themselves in the placing of exhibits of lumber, grains, grasses, and such, and, according to the statements of the Deputy Minister of Agriculture, Dr. Wapogack, this morning, British Columbia produce will be most advantageously shown.

It is the custom of officials to purchase the prize winning exhibits at the different Fall fairs, and in all probability Victoria, New Westminster, Vancouver and other cities will be enabled to have produce from their fairs on display in London in the near future.

From British Columbia will go a sample bunch of prize winning exhibits of timber grown in this province. Actual displays of the growth of trees, as they are in their native state here, will be on hand.

Arrangements will soon be in full swing for the exhibits must be sent into the headquarters in London before January 15, 1924. And as it takes some time to ship and to prepare, operations are already beginning. All shipments must be on their way to the Old Country by December 15.

According to reports, the Federal Government will make financial pro-

NO SUNDAY FISHING ON WEST COAST

Absolute Embargo, Victoria Presbytery is Told

That under Government regulations, as a result of the report of the Fisheries Commission, fishing operations are suspended on the west coast from Saturday to midnight Sunday, was reported to the Presbytery of Victoria this morning by Charles E. Mott, who has been giving Christian service to the fishermen, loggers and scattered settlers on Barclay Sound.

A new boat will be provided this winter for this work. Mr. Mott was granted leave of absence from his field for six months to study in Westminster Hall, Vancouver, beginning October 2.

Mission Work

In presenting the report of the Presbytery's Home-Mission Committee, Rev. Dr. Clay said that regular services had been carried on in every home mission field on the island, except at Port Alice. Rev. W. Graham, of the Cariboo Presbytery, has begun work at Ladysmith, as successor to Rev. James G. Reid. Gabriola Island will be supplied by a student, Japanese fishermen of Barclay Sound had been left in charge of the mission.

At the request of Rev. Andrew Walker, the congregation of Union Bay was granted permission to organize a session, and Mr. Coleman, of Courtenay, were appointed assessors. The Knights of Pythias will continue to use the church building at Chemainus as a lodge hall.

Mrs. A. D. McKay and Mrs. W. G. Wilson, representing the Women's Missionary Society of the Presbytery, went on a tour of the mission stations with the services of Miss White, who is special worker on the island, in visiting hospitals, looking after the children and training young people in missionary leadership and promoting the local auxiliaries. Miss White is at present at work in Ladysmith, and is expected to return to the Women's Missionary Sunday on September 16.

The Recent General Assembly

Rev. W. L. McKee and Rev. Dr. Clay, in reporting the meeting of the General Assembly at Port Arthur, eulogized the fine spirit and high level on which the debate on Church Union was conducted, and the splendid self-sacrifice displayed by the foreign missionaries of the church. According to a communication from the Union Act, which will be brought before the Dominion Parliament during the coming session.

Distinguished Guests

Rev. J. Wilson, D.D., of Kingston, the brother of Rev. Dr. Wilson, of the First Church, of this city, and Rev. Geo. Wilson, D.D., superintendent of home missions, were present at the morning session as visitors.

REMANDED ON SERIOUS CHARGE

Ovila Ferland, in the city police court this morning, when charged with committing an indecent act in Beacon Hill Park on Monday afternoon at five o'clock, declared that he was a sufferer from sunstroke, was innocent of the charge and wanted a lawyer to defend him. Magistrate Jay remanded the case until tomorrow morning.

According to the police, Ferland's action offended a ten-year-old girl, acting as nurse to a little boy and girl.

A French Canadian of peculiar appearance, with one eye, white hair, his jaw offset, and a high falsetto voice, the description given by the child was ample for identification, as was shown last night when Detectives McLellan and Rogers apprehended the accused, who was promptly identified by the children.

ENDORSE G.W.V.A. PLAN TO FURNISH HOSPITAL ROOM

"One of the Finest Things Association Has Done," Says Retiring President

The proposal of the Great War Veterans' Association executive to devote $500 of the proceeds of their next tag-day to furnishing a room in the new wing of the Jubilee Hospital and also to raise a sum of $100 or more each year for its upkeep was unanimously endorsed at the annual meeting last night. The secretary explained that it was intended to make provision so that veterans or dependents not necessarily members of the association who were in immediate need of treatment and were refused by the S.C.R., could be sent to the hospital.

"This will be one of the finest and most necessary things we have ever done," said Comrade George Food. "There have been cases which we know of where veterans in immediate need of medical assistance through war service have been turned down by the S.C.R. Having nowhere to go in the meantime they have suffered and it is to these cases we want to give that immediate help which is necessary. We can't take up the case afterwards and as it frequently happens the S.C.R. may acknowledge its responsibilities. There has been a case where the S.C.R. has considered a case and wrote to the man after he was dead stating that they had decided to give him medical assistance."

It is such cases like that we want to avoid," said the retiring president. Comrade Food mentioned that a friend who wished to remain anonymous had subscribed $50 and several of the members had offered to help meet the expenses of furnishing the room and maintaining it should the tag-day fall short of their expectations.

HAS MISSION FUND DEFICIT OF $350,000

Presbyterian Church of Canada to Hold Self-Denial Week

Although nearly $2,250,000 were contributed last year by the Presbyterian Church in Canada to home and foreign missions, and general benevolence being one-fourth of the total general expenditure of $1,900,000, the church is facing a deficit in mission funds of $350,000 and has been compelled seriously to limit the rapidly expanding work both at home and abroad.

This was the situation outlined last night in St. Andrew's Church at the opening session of the Presbytery of Victoria by Rev. Dr. A. E. Mitchell, of Vancouver, chairman of the general interests committee of the Synod of British Columbia. Dr. Mitchell pointed out that the budget fund of the church for missionary maintenance had been steadily growing, having risen in 1922 to $1,443,933, as compared with $1,311,023 in 1921. The deficit, he said, was due to the higher cost of operation including the abnormal cost of exchange in the foreign mission work, and in the home work, the increased salaries of home missionaries, two advances having been made in the past five years. The enlargement of work by the Forward Movement had also increased current liabilities.

To overcome the deficit of $350,000 and to prevent the limitation of the work, the General Assembly, meeting in June at Port Arthur, had decided to raise for regular budget expenses in 1924 the sum of $1,800,000 and for this purpose will observe a self-denial week the last week in October, he asserted.

On motion of Rev. Dr. Clay and Rev. Dr. Wilson, the Presbytery pledged itself to carry out the Assembly's plan and to raise $12,500 among the congregations of Vancouver Island as their share of $70,000, the total allocation for British Columbia. The general interest committee, of which Rev. T. Monies, M.P.P., is chairman, will allocate the sum expected from each congregation, amounting to nearly 14 per cent. of the total membership of 2,400.

Rev. D. Walker, as moderator of the Presbytery, occupied the chair with Rev. D. McLaren acting as clerk.

WHEN THE BRAKES REFUSED TO WORK.—Several tramps are believed to have been killed in this wreck in the mountains near San Bernardino, Calif. But their bodies have not been recovered. Blood stains were found in the debris. The brakes failed to function as the freight train began to negotiate this steep grade.

CINEMA BABY.—Petite little Betty Ellison, called the "jimmy Juliet of the movies," is so wrapped up in her work that she makes dresses from the cutting room scrap. Here's hoping she doesn't play with matches.

UNITED AFTER TWENTY-FIVE YEARS.—Twenty-five years ago Robert McFarlane and his wife parted. Now they have re-married and returned to Pickering, Ontario, to live. The top photos show the $10,000 home which is to be the groom's present to his bride, in the process of construction, and the tent in which they are now living. Lower left is Mrs. Mary McFarlane, the bride, and on the right their youngest son, Frank. Robert McFarlane himself is shown in the centre at work on his farm.

CINDERELLA.—So many nice heads could have been written over this picture. She's Dorothy Dear of Montclair, N. J., and she'll be Princess Cinderella at the 32nd annual baby parade at Ashbury Park, N. J. Princess Dear and Cinderella are three fine names for one girl to have. And so's Dorothy.

ALL ABOUT THE MINE CONFERENCE.—Coal operators and miners met in conference at Atlantic City. Oral L. Garrison—that's the young man in the picture—is secretary to John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers. There wasn't much being done at the conference, so Garrison went back to Springfield, Ill., and married Miss Lucille Hunter and took her to Atlantic City on their honeymoon. Yes, this is all about the mine conference.

FASTEST OF HER TYPE.—Here's the newest member of the American navy—the scout cruiser Detroit. The scout cruiser is the fastest of America's capital ships, and the Detroit is the speediest scout cruiser. She joined the Atlantic fleet August 1.

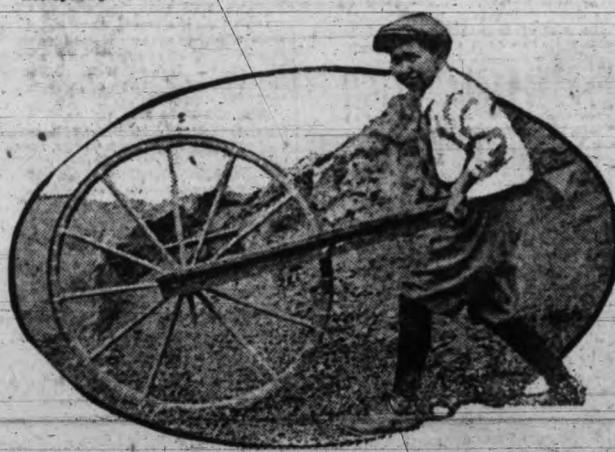

PRETTIEST IN CANADA.—This new Mormon Temple at Cardston, Alberta, is considered by many the most beautiful in Canada, and is the first temple of this sect on British soil. The building follows somewhat the Egyptian architecture, and its interior is rich in murals, mosaics and inlays. Heber J. Grant, president of the Mormon Church, will go up from Salt Lake next month to dedicate it.

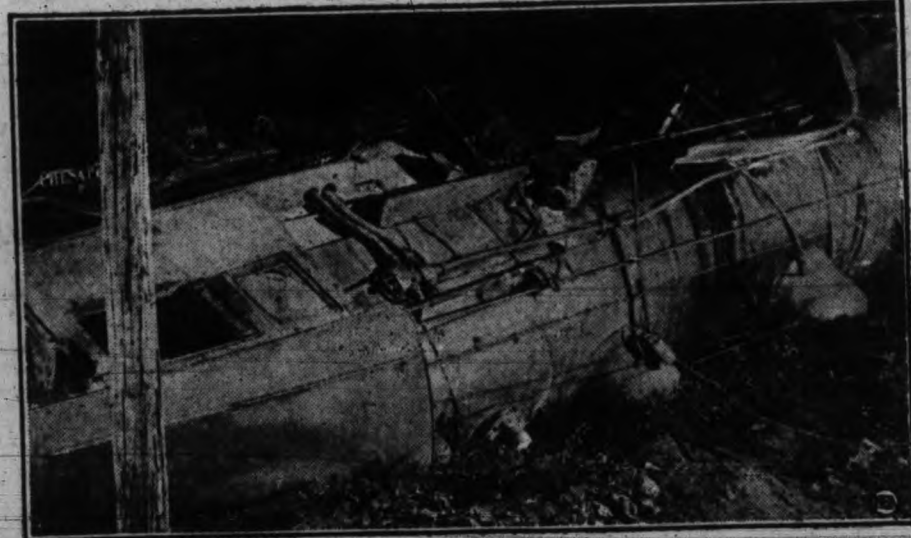

DR. GUSTAV STRESEMANN (above) succeeds Wilhelm Cuno (below) as Chancellor of Germany.

THRILLING THE TENDERFEET.—Tex Austin has taken his wild horses and his wild cowboys to New York to give the Gothamites a thrill. Here one rider dives his horse into the Harlem River in a race in which twelve took part. Tony Pagano on "Houdini" won.

WHEELING UP TRAIL.—Here's the way they measure mountain trails in Colorado. Pupils of a school near Pike's Peak are doing the work on many long hikes, a meter on the wheel recording the distances.

RAIL TITANS IN DEATH GRIP.—A twisted mass of steel was all that remained when these two monsters crashed head-on in the Nashville, Tenn., freight yards, killing three and injuring five others of the crew.

MONTREAL CONFIRMS TERMINAL CONTRACT

Luney Brothers Propose Completion of New Inner Harbor Structure in Ten Months

The award of the contract for the new Belleville Street Marine Terminal to Luney Brothers, at a price approximating $15,000, has been confirmed at Montreal, Capt. J. W. Troup, general manager of the B. C.

Coast Steamship service announced yesterday afternoon.

The construction of this palatial addition to Victoria's Inner Harbor array of fine buildings will be completed in ten months, it is expected, as work will be rushed in every way possible, with an average payroll of fifty or sixty men employed. Preliminary work by Luney Brothers has been going on for some weeks past, and preparations are now complete for the immediate removal of the Company's Coastal office staff to temporary buildings, in order that demolition of the present building may be commenced forthwith.

GREAT WAR VETERANS REPORT PROGRESS

Pioneer Soldier Organization Regaining Old Place, Officers Declare

"Our former members are coming back fast, and we are rapidly obtaining our proper place in the sun again," reported Comrade George Food, retiring president, at the well-attended annual meeting of the Great War Veterans' Association last night. A wonderful improvement in membership, with the return of former members who were active workers when the association was first organized, was reported and it was predicted that within a short space of time the Great War Veterans' Association would have an active membership equal to that it had when it was at the peak of its power.

The retiring president thanked the workers of the association for the excellent support they had given him during the last six months, and asked for the same support for the new president. The committee they now had, he said, had never been equalled. They had comfortable quarters and a well conducted club of which they could justly be proud. Progress had marked their efforts for the last six months and he predicted that the growth in membership would be sustained.

"We are ready and willing to co-operate with any of the other organizations in a friendly spirit. We have no ill-feeling against any of them, and if we have differences we fight our battles in a clean manly way and entertain no animosity." Through the fact that it was the premier association in Canada, with headquarters at Ottawa and branches throughout Canada, the G.W.V.A., the president asserted, was recognized by the Dominion Government and was able to get action on matters which the officers took up. For this reason they should preserve the identity of the G.W.V.A. in Victoria.

The new president, Comrade Fiedew, spoke along similar lines and stated that visitors had told him that the premier of the Great War Veterans' Association was the only officially recognized organization. "Other associations in Victoria," commented the speaker, "even if they do not like us have to admit that we get action on matters that we take up with the Government or Government departments."

Plans for the visit to Victoria of American Legion members were discussed and the delegates were thanked for their work. It was reported that the delegates of the service men's organizations of the city were working harmoniously on this matter. Comrade R. G. Taylor offered to loan his sightseeing car to convey cripples to the memorial services at Beacon Hill Park. Comrade J. J. Martin also offered the use of his car.

Among the new applications for membership was one from Arizona, which included a cheque for a year's dues.

ASKS CITIES TO GET TOGETHER AND FIGHT FOR FAIR TREATMENT

"Permit me to ask you one question—Can you conceive of the C. P. R. or any corporation not having its legal watch dogs in the capital of every province in the Dominion, scanning carefully every piece of legislation coming before the House, and yet we representing 99 per cent of the people have not in the past contributed enough to pay the expenses of your officials and executive to their meetings, nor enough to pay the office expenses of our parliamentary agent, to say nothing of any fair remuneration for the time, energy and ability that he has given to our work."

Must Decide Now

"I have told you of a few of the things that the Union has accomplished in the past. You, during this convention, must decide as to the future of the union. To-day we are in the balance, it is for you to say whether we are going to be a strong, virile power, looking after the interests of the people who have elected us to office, or whether we are going to let things take their own way, a way possibly engineered by influences who are seeking personal gain, and by our own lethargy raise no protest against legislation which may cost us as municipalities hundreds of thousands of dollars and as personal ratepayers of the municipalities many times this amount. "If I ask you gentlemen to give this matter your most serious consideration. You cannot in fairness ask your president, your vice-president, your secretary, your treasurer, your parliamentary agent and executive to give of their time and ability and also to pay out of their own pocket the cost of the work of the Union if you appreciate the work of the Union in the past and realize the wonderful power it may be for good or evil, then go back to your municipalities, tell your councils all about it and carry them with you in voting whatever amount the union may in its wisdom decide to assess them."

Mr. McHardy emphasized the absolute necessity for not only carrying on the union as heretofore, but three or four instances. If you will refer to your Parliamentary Agent's report issued in 1922 you will see that the following municipalities received the following amounts:

Nelson	$22,485
Prince Rupert	24,485
Vancouver	569,944
Victoria	165,496
South Vancouver	137,575

"These amounts do not include the amounts received by the different municipalities during the current year."

Justified Existence

"Now every person conversant with the situation, admits that these results were achieved by the efforts of the Union and by these efforts only. Now if the Union had accomplished nothing more, it has justified its existence. It has proved to the Government roughly $5.00 per capita up to the present time and all the union asks in return to an insignificant 2c per capita to carry on its work."

Union's Work

"Now let us consider the Union—what it has meant to the people of British Columbia in the past, and what it may mean in the future." The President went on. He cited as accomplishments of the Union:

- "1. The successful fight in killing the clause of the Okanagan Telephone Bill of 1913, which was very obnoxious to the Okanagan and over which every municipality from Armstrong to Penticton were up in arms and sent down a large delegation to argue the matter before the Private Bills Committee. The fight had to do with the tolls and rates and charges which were endeavored to be made statutory by the Okanagan Telephone Company and also to the duplication of the Dominion Telegraph company's line by adding telephone rights to their charter. These were opposed at the time and never appeared upon the statute book.

Telephone Fight

"2. In the session of 1914 the Northern Telephone Company applied for and obtained a charter blanketing the whole of the area appertaining to the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Northern Telephone Company their exclusive rights. We got a clause inserted in the Act to the effect that any municipality hereafter created in this territory would have control of its own highways even to the extent of ordering the telephone company to remove their poles and wires and put them in another designated spot; and that their rates and tolls should be subject to confirmation by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council who would hear any interested municipality."

"3. In the Dominion Session of 1916 the successful opposition to the E. E. Telephones Company's Charter under the name of the Western Canada Telephone Company."

"4. The Architect's Bill, The Engineer's Bill, The Chartered Accountant's Bill and recently the Chiropractor's Bill, all had clauses in them that if their members for neglect of their rules shall be payable to their society. These were all changed at our instance to being payable to the Municipality."

Saved Telephone Money

"5. The fight against the B. C. Electric Railway Company—two Sessions in all—was altogether conducted by memoranda made by our parliamentary agent and sent to the president of the union. In the first place it was withdrawn without any person going to Ottawa—in the second place it was killed after four or five of the Reeves of the Lower Mainland had gone to Ottawa and the Union of Canadian Municipalities had been called in to the material used by the Union of Canadian Municipalities was the material furnished by us."

Following the Incorporation of the Western Canada Telephone Company in 1916, and having regard to the work that was done then by the Union, in the year 1921 the Western Canada Telephone Company having changed its name to the B. C. Telephone Company, applied to the Board of Railway Commissioners for a readjustment of its rates, the effect of which would be to increase the income of the company by $350,000 per year. If the telephone charter had been left alone in 1916, there could have been no opposition raised to its application, in fact this application would not have been necessary. The telephone company would have been able to have put the rates into force without the approval of the public, but owing to the fact that this raise was to be confirmed by the Board of Railway Commissioners, those municipalities which were interested, clubbed together, and specially paid our parliamentary agent, after seven days' argument before the Railway Board, succeeded in reducing the annual increase to $125,000, thereby saving to the telephone users and ratepayers of our municipalities, up to the present date, $270,000 per annum. It would not appear in 1916 that any such result was possible, but the experience of 1921 shows how necessary is the vigilance to be maintained over corporations who do not think in terms of one session but in terms of decades."

Taxation Relief

"You men," Mr. McHardy went on, "particulars of the office expenses of previous conventions, fully know of the big fight that the union has been waging for years to get our Provincial Government to permit us to retain some of the taxes that we have been paying—taxes which justly belong to the municipalities, and for which the municipalities alone rendered service, or in lieu of that to levy the municipalities only with their land tax and take over the load of the taxes levied on the schools. You know how year after year we met the Government without apparently gaining much ground until we were forced to demand the right to appear on the floor of the Legislature and place the claims of our people before the members of the Legislature."

"You also have read the petition of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities to the Honorable Speaker and members of the Legislative Assembly of the Province of British Columbia which was prepared by our Parliamentary Agent. All this is still fresh in your memory, and you know has resulted in a very concrete shape in financial returns to the municipalities. After five Sessions with the Cabinet we were able to get the Government to property tax although what we had always asked for and stood for was either an income tax, or as already stated, the Government taking over the cost of the maintenance of the schools and hospitals. Unfortunately the Government could not carry out its promise, but in return there of, gave up a portion of the liquor money, all the race track money, and a portion of the motor tax. This has helped. I will simply cite three or four instances. If you will refer to your Parliamentary Agent's report issued in 1922 you will see that the following municipalities received the following amounts:

Nelson	$22,485
Prince Rupert	24,485
Vancouver	569,944
Victoria	165,496
South Vancouver	137,575

"These amounts do not include the amounts received by the different municipalities during the current year."

Now every person conversant with the situation admits that these results were achieved by the efforts of the Union and by these efforts only. Now if the Union had accomplished nothing more, it has justified its existence. It has proved to the Government roughly $5.00 per capita up to the present time and all the union asks in return to an insignificant 2c per capita to carry on its work."

"Now, although the financial side is an important one, yet the greatest benefit accruing to the people of the Province as a result of the efforts of the Union, are not shown in the financial statement on the back of the Parliamentary Agent's report, but have resulted in legislation helpful to the municipalities and in the preventing of legislation hurtful to the municipalities."
